MSG to Host 2nd Annual Powder to Prosecco

Join in the Fun of this Women 2 Women Event and Celebrate the Camaraderie of Women Skiers

BY MARY HEYL

Over 20 years ago, “pink it and shrink it” was the ski industry’s design philosophy for women-specific skis and gear, according to Kimberly Reading, owner of Mud, Sweat n’ Gears. While the past few decades have seen more women than ever enjoy a historically male-dominated sport, many women struggle to find ski gear that is specifically designed for them, or even a ski shop with a decent variety of women’s specific ski gear. The 2nd annual Powder to Prosecco Women 2 Women Clinic, hosted by Mud, Sweat ‘n Gears in conjunction with Blizzard/Tecnica is the perfect opportunity for women to learn about a global initiative to design high-quality women’s products and celebrate the camaraderie of women skiers.

The two-day event begins Thursday, February 23 at Mud, Sweat n’ Gears, where former US Ski Team member and Blizzard/Tecnica Marketing Director Leslie Baker-Brown will lead an educational discussion about the Women 2 Women Project and all things skiing. The event continues Friday at HoliMont, where Baker-Brown Blizzard/Tecnica reps will be doing a private on-snow demo for participants.

‘SKI 4 A CURE’ FUNDRAISER COMING TO ELLICOTTVILLE

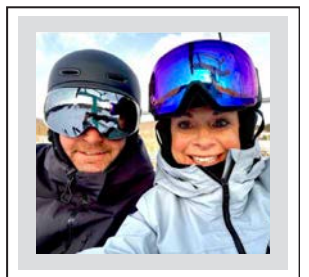

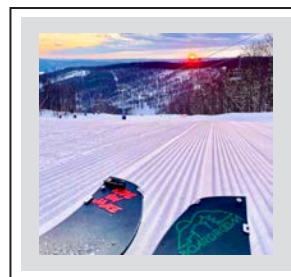

Combine the desire to help support cancer research at Roswell Park Cancer Institute with your love for skiing/snowboarding and the natural beauty of the HoliMont Ski Club on Thursday, February 16 at the inaugural Ski 4 A Cure event, presented by the Ski Club of Lockport (SCOL). Inspired by The Ride For Roswell summertime cycling event, SCOL board member Tom Doran of Amherst created a day centered around outdoor winter activities - where all members of the family would have the chance to participate and have fun together, regardless of ski/snowboard ability. “We’re really looking forward to a unique event,” Doran said during a recent conversation. “We’ve planned an entire day’s worth of fun activities with the goal of bringing people together in a beautiful winter setting for this great cause” ... page 07

The ANF Growing Greener After One Hundred Years

The Allegheny National Forest will be sharing and celebrating its 100th Year Anniversary with the public during 2023. On September 24, 1923, the Allegheny National Forest was established. The Forest, now one hundred years later in 2023, is a success story of regeneration and regrowth. In 1923 these lands looked vastly different. This area in northwestern Pennsylvania was commonly referred to as the “Allegheny Brush Pile.” The trees had been clear cut by timber companies to meet the demands of a growing nation... page 11

E-Ville Spirits Teams Up with Ellicottville Distillery for Private Tasting

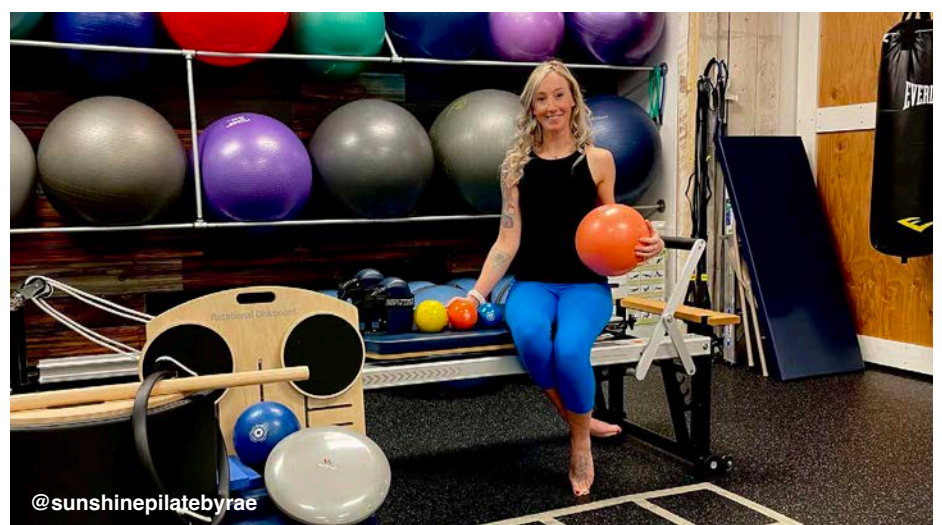

BY JESSICA SCHULTZ

Want to try some locally produced spirits this weekend in Ellicottville? Want to get out of the house and away from the kids for some adult-only time? There is a perfect event coming up for you! E-ville Spirits, Liquors & Wines is hosting a private tasting event featuring a line-up of Ellicottville Distillery’s greatest hits on Saturday, February 4th.

Owner of E-ville Spirits, Shannon Car-scallen, was more than happy to share information about the upcoming event. When asked what prompted her to host, she said, “We sell a lot of products from Ellicottville Distillery and people always have a lot of questions, like how something was made, what’s included in the recipe... so we thought it would be great if the actual creator could come out answer them...”

SUNSHINE PILATES OPENS INSIDE CORE PERFORMANCE

You know how you might meet someone, and something in the back of your brain says, this one’s a keeper? It may consist of no more than a brief exchange, or a pouring out of one’s heart to a stranger, but you just know... this is a very special person. I felt exactly that way when I serendipitously befriended and was mutually befriended by the very incredible and amazing Rachele Dove. This young woman is joining the ranks of the young entrepreneurial whiz kids in this community who take life by the horns and decide they want to drive their own bus ... page 12

How Teamwork is Adding Value for Our Local Businesses and Advertisers

BY BRENDA PERKS

Since 2010, our small yet personalized team has worked passionately to provide local business owners, event organizers and community resources with the valuable tools and comprehensive support to help them reach their target markets through the wonderful world of print media. What started out as a monthly tourism newspaper transformed into a biweekly community newspaper, offering a platform for everyone to come together and benefit from the advantages of our regional, high-traffic reach. As we continue to mold our publication into its best version, we are excited to announce that we are transforming yet again - from a biweekly newspaper to a weekly, starting NOW!

We believe that teamwork is essential for success. My co-pilot, Meaghan, and I have built a team of talented professionals who are dedicated to providing engaging content for our readers and the best services possible to our advertisers. With a wide range of skills and experience to draw from, we are not only creating a successful and thriving business environment here at ellicottvilleNOW, but we are aiming to help create a successful and thriving business platform for local businesses as well.

You know what else is important? Communication... which is why we recently brought on another full-time team player who can dedicate the required time to fulfill this need for our clients.

Jessica Schultz grew up in Great Valley and graduated from Ellicottville Central School. She comes to ellicottvilleNOW with a strong background in communication and organization, and will be focusing her abilities in these areas as well as content coordinating. Her motivation to provide more personal attention to our advertisers, to connect with our team of writers on weekly storyboards, and to gather and create content for our website, digital newsletters and social media platforms provides so much more added value for both our advertisers and our readers.

Speaking of our advertisers... they are key to ellicottvilleNOW. Our publication is free for anyone to pick up and read, therefore, it is our advertisers that provide the foundation to keep us in operation. We are grateful for all of the wonderful businesses that continue to advertise with us as we transition to a weekly publication. Many of our local businesses have faithfully been with us since we released our first issue 13 years ago. To show our appreciation, our new media package offers free digital advertising on multiple platforms, increasing brand visibility.

We're also excited to add another local delivery person to our team, as we begin the process of growing our distribution areas. Kelly Loverdi and her husband reside just a few miles east of downtown Ellicottville and run the new campground on Route 242, Good-Natured Glamping, which opened last summer. You may also know Kelly from The Purple Doorknob, where she works part-time as a retail associate. Teaming up alongside our head distribution manager, Evan, Kelly is excited to meet new people as she travels throughout Cattaraugus and Erie Counties, sharing the good news that you'll find each week in ellicottvilleNOW.

Oh, and our page size... yep, it's bigger! Which means bigger ad space and more content - more business spotlights, more event highlights and more special features, which means more writers! We're always looking to grow our team of writers. If you or someone you know is interested, have them reach out to us at info@ellicottvilleNOW.com.

We are proud to produce a quality publication and maintain a high-level of customer service. We are happy to support local, provide employment opportunities for our locals, and we strive to assist small business owners in their quest to grow as well. We are grateful for every single one of you, and we look forward to continuing to work with all of you in this community, which we are proud to raise our families and call home.

If you're looking for an effective way to support local businesses or advertise a business, event or community resource, look no further than our weekly newspaper! Our team is dedicated to providing the best service possible and helping our clients succeed. Growing together, we can create a bright future for our community. Should you have any questions regarding our services, please contact our office at 716-699-9816 or email info@ellicottvilleNOW.com. And be sure to frequent the advertisers you see in our publication. We are all connected. #SupportYourLocalBusinesses #SupportYourLocalPublisher #evlnow

RAIL RIDER JAMBOREE

High Energy Music Festival Returning to Holiday Valley in March

ELLCOTTVILLE - Holiday Valley is proud to announce the return of the Rail Rider Jamboree. Taking place on Saturday, March 18, 2023 this will be year two of the one-day music festival, which last year saw over 1,800 people attend the event.

Dark Star Orchestra will headline the event, playing two sets of Grateful Dead music. GANTZER & Friends, who is led by Mike Gantzer of the Buffalo Jamband, Aqueous as well as North East up and coming artists, Eggy, Grub, New Orleans Marching Band; Buffalo Brass Machine, Bluegrass & Bloody Mary's at the Cabana Bar at Holiday Valley with the grassroots, bluegrass band Folkfaces will round out the musical experience for the day. The weekend will kick off on Friday, March 17th at Holiday Valley with music, beer tastings and more.

"We are so excited to return to Holiday Valley for our second year of the Jamboree. The lineup is filled with incredible talent, with music for all ages. We will also have food vendors and craft vendors and kids 10 and under are free. We really try to curate this event for everyone, to fit with the vibe of the mountain, which is good times and great music," says Festival Promoter, Jennifer Brazill

One exciting change to the festival is that the venue will be moving locations from the SnowPine Lot on Route 219 to the main parking area located adjacent to the Resort Center at the Base Area Parking Lot.

"Not only will this new location allow for the Rail Rider concertgoers to have a more immersive Holiday Valley experience but it'll create a really fun vibe for Holiday Valley guests who are out on the slopes," said Dash Hegeman, Holiday Valley director of marketing. "There will be great music playing throughout the day that people will be able to hear from the Mardi Gras lift, which should only increase interest for year 3 of the event. Plus by putting the venue in an area that is covered in blacktop, which the SnowPine lot is not, it will make for a better overall concert experience for everyone involved."

General Admission tickets are $75. VIP tickets are $130 and give you access to a heated tent with a private cash bar and bathrooms, exclusive stage-front viewing areas at the Main Stage, commemorative laminate, coffee cart service and donut snacks and more. Doors to the concert open at 1:00pm. Kids 10 and under are free with a parent/guardian.

Discounted lodging package rates are also available for Friday, March 17th until Sunday March 19th for anyone looking to extend their stay at Holiday Valley.

Dark Star Orchestra has been performing together for over 25 years and in that time played over 3,200 shows. Its Grateful Dead concert experience is more than just the sounds of the Grateful Dead. Dark Star Orchestra encapsulates the contagious energy of the music and grabs the listener in a way that has captivated fans of all ages and demographics.

GET A LITTLE SPIRITED

E-Ville Spirits Hosting Private Tasting Featuring Flavors from Ellicottville Distillery

@ellicottvilledistillery_716

By JESSICA SCHULTZ

Want to try some locally produced spirits this weekend in Ellicottville? Want to get out of the house and away from the kids for some adult-only time? There is a perfect event coming up for you! E-ville Spirits, Liquors & Wines is hosting a private tasting event featuring a line-up of Ellicottville Distillery's greatest hits on Saturday, February 4 starting at 6:00pm.

Owner of E-Ville Spirits, Shannon Carscallen, was more than happy to share information about the upcoming event. When asked what prompted her to host, she said, "We sell a lot of products from Ellicottville Distillery and people always have a lot of questions, like how something was made, what's included in the recipe... so we thought it would be great if the actual creator could come out answer them. I reached out to Bryan Scharf, owner of Ellicottville Distillery and got everything set up."

The tasting will feature all of the Ellicottville Distillery products that Shannon has for sale in her store, including the Maple Bourbon Creme, which is extremely popular, as well as the Distillery's Appleshine, Gin, Honey Spirit, new 5 Year Aged Bourbon and Blueberry Vodka. "It's a great line-up to try and Bryan will be right here to answer any questions guests may have about flavor, creation and execution," Shannon explained. "Maybe he could even share his knowledge about making a couple cocktails."

This will no doubt be a fun and unique event. Shannon says, "It's unique because not only do participants get to taste each spirit, but they have a real chance to interact with the creator of those spirits. It's educational and enlightening at the same time."

Bryan agrees that this is a great way for people who are curious about his distillery but haven't been able to come out to 5462 Robbins Road to see it in person yet. "This is an opportunity for me to share my work and showcase all the great things we make," he said. "We are unique in the way that we're very authentic. Everything we do is done in-house - from creating, distilling and packaging, right down to marketing. You come in, I'll give you a tour and show you around. I'm happy to explain how everything works, which spirit is my personal favorite... stuff like that. This event is exciting because I really enjoy sharing what we do here with other people and hopefully they'll come out and see us afterwards."

It sure sounds like everyone is very excited for this experience. Shannon said there are still a few spots left, available by reservation only, so now's your chance to snag a spot. (Please keep in mind that this is a 21+ only event and designated drivers are encouraged.) Call 716-699-4474 or email evillespirits@gmail.com.

Even if you miss out on the tasting, you can always visit E-Ville Spirits or the Ellicottville Distillery during their regular operating hours. Head over to evillespirits.com and ellicottvilledistillery.com or visit either business via their Facebook page for hours, directions and updates on new products and events.

ELLCOTTVILLE CHAMBER GEARS UP FOR MORE MUSIC, MORE FUN!

Winter Music Jam, Valentine's Day, and Mardi Gras Weekend are Right Around the Corner; Plan Your Visit to the 14731!

ELLCOTTVILLE - Fresh snow has finally hit our village and to say we're happy about it is an understatement. As hard as it is to believe, we're about halfway through our winter season, which means it's time to start planning for our upcoming celebrations.

Valentines Day (February 14) - Ellicottville is a top favorite when it comes to couples getaways and what better time to visit! Spoil your sweeties with all we have to offer!

Winter Music Jam (February 24-26) - Winter Music Jam is yet again another high-energy weekend where you'll find different genres of music on every corner; you'll also begin to find some end-of-season deals and services in your favorite local businesses.

Mardi Gras Weekend (March 10-12) - Mark your calendars for our end-of-winter season and most iconic celebration, Mardi Gras Weekend! It's a weekend where we celebrate on the ski slopes and in the village with costumes, music and floats! You can join in the parade by filling out an application online no later than 2/17. ## SKI 4 A CURE

HoliMont to Host a Fun Day to Benefit Roswell Park Cancer Center

The Exhibition Express Quad chairlift at HoliMont will be ground zero for many of the exciting, fun events planned for the inaugural Ski 4 A Cure Fundraiser.

BY RICH RUMFOLA

Combine the desire to help support cancer research at Roswell Park Cancer Institute with your love for skiing/snowboarding and the natural beauty of the HoliMont Ski Club from 9:00am-4:30pm on Thursday, February 16 at the inaugural Ski 4 A Cure event, presented by the Ski Club of Lockport (SCOL).

Inspired by The Ride For Roswell summertime cycling event, SCOL board member Tom Doran of Amherst created a day centered around outdoor winter activities - where all members of the family would have the chance to participate and have fun together, regardless of ski/snowboard ability.

"We're really looking forward to a unique event," Doran said during a recent conversation. "We've planned an entire day's worth of fun activities with the goal of bringing people together in a beautiful winter setting for this great cause."

The $100 ticket for the Ski 4 A Cure fundraiser includes a lift pass, catered lunch, snowshoe/x-country skiing, a fun race, scavenger hunt and much more. The fun day officially begins at 10:00am with a colorful costume parade of cancer survivors, friends and families, all skiing and snowboarding together down the main hill at HoliMont.

"I saw a fundraising event like this at the Vail ski resort in Colorado," Doran said. "It's called 'Pink Vail' - it's a big festival with thousands of people all wearing pink and having fun to raise money for their local hospital out there."

Parade participants will be urged to wear colors that represent the kind of cancer they were treated for and the plan is for the entire procession to start at the top of Exhibition Run and work its way downward like a rainbow-colored snake, in a serpentine pattern that will not only be fun to be part of, but should also be great to watch for spectators in the chalet at the bottom of hill. SCOL members will be staffing the various activities that are planned throughout the day all over the ski area.

OTHER EVENTS OF THE DAY

The 'Bombardier Ball Drop' is sure to be a fan-favorite event, as it will allow participants to "purchase" numbered balls that they will then drop from the chairlift (hopefully accurately) as their chair passes over a basket down on the hill. Prizes will go to the best "bombardiers" of the day.

There will also be a self-timed race, where competitors will be allowed two timed runs down a slalom course. The winner(s) of this contest will be those skiers or snowboarders who come closest to matching the times of their two runs. Being the fastest in this race will not necessarily win you the prize!

As this will be the first year for the Ski 4 A Cure event, organizers hope to attract at least 300 skiers/snowboarders to HoliMont for the day and are quick to point out there will be fun activities going on throughout the day, even if you don't ski or snowboard at all.

HoliMont will have snowshoes available for those who choose to navigate the great outdoors without the thrill of slipping or sliding their way down a steep slope. Cross-country skis will also be available with miles of beautiful wooded trails, all waiting for you to explore at your own pace.

DEMOS, DINA'S, AND DRAWINGS

For anyone looking to demo the best and brightest new equipment, the Boss Wrench at The City Garage of Ellicottville will have his crew of expert ski technicians on-hand in the tent at the bottom of the Exhibition Chairlift to answer your questions and get your feet on the gear that will surely bring a smile to your face.

Dina's Restaurant will be catering everyone's lunchtime feast in the main chalet, where there will also be a 50/50 drawing and basket raffles that include donations from local Ellicottville businesses.

Those interested in purchasing a ticket for the first-ever Ski 4 A Cure should go to skicluboflockport.com, click on 'Ski 4 A Cure' in the main menu and follow the instructions to buy an event ticket and/or donate directly to Roswell Park through links on that page.

No donation is too small. Every dollar adds up to something greater than anyone could accomplish alone. Help make an impact in the fight against cancer!

POWDER TO PROSECCO

On-hill Event Organized by Mud, Sweat n' Gears Celebrates Women Skiers

BY MARY HEYL

Over 20 years ago, "pink it and shrink it" was the ski industry's design philosophy for women-specific skis and gear, according to Kimberly Reading, owner of Mud, Sweat n' Gears. While the past few decades have seen more women than ever enjoy a historically male-dominated sport, many women struggle to find ski gear that is specifically designed for them, or even a ski shop with a decent variety of women's specific ski gear. The 2nd annual Powder to Prosecco Women 2 Women Clinic, hosted by Mud, Sweat 'n Gears in conjunction with Blizzard/Tecnica is the perfect opportunity for women to learn about a global initiative to design high-quality women's products and celebrate the camaraderie of women skiers.

The two-day event begins Thursday, February 23 from 6:00-8:00pm at Mud, Sweat n' Gears, where former US Ski Team member and Blizzard/Tecnica Marketing Director Leslie Baker-Brown will lead an educational discussion about the Women 2 Women Project and all things skiing. "Leslie has been in the ski industry for almost 35 years now and is a pioneer in developing women-specific ski products," Reading noted. The project's goal is to teach female skiers about women-specific ski equipment that will enhance their skiing experience and make them better skiers. This casual evening will give guests the opportunity to meet Leslie, learn about the importance of being in the right gear, and enjoy drinks and light refreshments.

The event continues Friday at HoliMont, where Baker-Brown and other representatives from Blizzard/Tecnica will be doing a private on-snow demo for participants. Reading explained, "There will be up to 40 pairs of Blizzard skis for women to demo. Participants will also have the opportunity to ski with Leslie and other Blizzard/Tecnica representatives. There is a light lunch and an apres party with raffles and giveaways." The event is limited to 40 participants and is filling up fast with many of last year's participants returning. "It's a really nice way for female skiers to get to know each other and become part of this wonderful community," Reading added.

Reading, who has been skiing her whole life, is all too familiar with the challenges of being in a historically male-dominated industry. "Basically, smaller skis with a women's graphic on them was about the extent of female skis," she said, "but in the last 23 years that my husband and I have owned Mud, Sweat n' Gears, the advancements in women-specific equipment have been incredible. We have an entire section in the store dedicated to women's specific ski equipment... a category that continues to grow every year."

Another component to Leslie Baker-Brown's Women 2 Women Project is the Hilaree Nelson Education Scholarship, which supports women in their pursuit to further their education and expertise in the ski industry. According to Reading, "I'm thrilled to announce that Mud, Sweat n' Gears employee Hanna Lee was one of 30 women nationwide to be awarded this prestigious scholarship," said Reading. "Leslie is all about women being involved in the ski industry - whether you're working in a ski shop, on the hill, or behind the scenes."

Lee grew up in Syracuse and started working at Mud, Sweat n' Gears nine years ago while still a college student. "I've been to boot fitting schools and there are only ever a handful of women attending," she noted. "It's become increasingly important to me to get as much education as I can to help more women in snowsports be more comfortable and find the right gear for them."

Lee went through the extensive application process in which she answered several questions about her history in the ski industry, why she is drawn to it, and what she'd do with the grant money. While still deciding which educational opportunity she'd like to pursue with her award, Lee is confident in her goal, which informs her career as a full-time member of the staff at Mud, Sweat 'n Gears. "It's important to me for women to feel comfortable in an industry that's often dominated by men," she said. "Seeing a female working in a ski shop provides comfort in a process that can be intimidating. There are a lot of women who aren't aware that there are skis and boots designed specifically for them, and it's really cool to help women go through that process and experience - really see the difference that the right gear can make."

Lee, who was part of last year's Powder to Prosecco event, is looking forward to the camaraderie of skiing with Baker-Brown and other women skiers again. "It's a whole different environment than a mixed gender group," she said. "It truly builds this amazing community of female skiers. I love that!"

To sign up for Powder to Prosecco, stop in or call Mud, Sweat n' Gears at 716-699-8300. Lift tickets are required; discounted lift tickets can be purchased at HoliMont (no lift ticket charge for HoliMont season pass holders).

UNDERCOVER AGENTS

Area Organizations Doing Good Without a Whole Lot of Fanfare

BY CAROL FISHER-LINN

“When I first went to the homeless shelter, I had a bike. The only possession I had left. It wasn’t much, but it was mine. A CCA member went 20 miles away and got my bike for me. That’s how much they care.” - CCA client.

CATTARAUGUS COMMUNITY ACTION

Cattaraugus Community Action (CCA) is a non-profit organization serving local communities for the needs of its residents and dedicated to providing opportunities to help vulnerable people achieve economic, physical, and emotional security. Located at 25 Jefferson Street in Salamanca, they endeavor to meet people’s most basic needs. On their website they say this: “More importantly, we collaborate with scores of public and private partners to offer marginalized people hope, opportunity, and the tools to overcome adversity and to thrive. We serve individuals and families, the elderly, the disabled, and the disadvantaged in southwestern and central New York. We believe in helping everyone who interacts with us as our ultimate goal is to help you achieve security, stability, and self-efficacy for you and your family.”

What some people don’t realize is that CCA prioritizes trauma-care including safe and affordable housing, home rehab and weatherization, prevention, and education, along with mental health services, food security and support for youth, families, and survivors of crime. If you have a need mentioned here or one that you don’t know where to turn for help, you can reach CCA at 716-945-1041 or Cattaraugus Community Action’s 24-hour CRISIS HOTLINE at 1-888-945-3970. Keep this number handy. Tear it out and post it on your bulletin board or refrigerator in case of an emergency.

SUPPORT FOR OUR LOCAL FOOD PANTRIES

The Rotary Club of Ellicottville has, over the years, worked closely with the Ellicottville Food Bank, providing financial support and donation drives along with providing funds to improve the facility storage housed in the United Church of Ellicottville. This amazing program run by Val Germaine, Nancy Rogan and Reverend John Woodring serves the Ellicottville community with a totally volunteer staff. It is open Monday 1:00-3:00p, Wednesday 4:00-6:00pm and Saturday 10:00am-noon.

The Food Pantry in Great Valley is operated by volunteers from St. Paul’s Lutheran Church of Ellicottville. It is open to all residents of Cattaraugus County on the last two Saturdays of every month from 9:00am-1:00pm.

THE SALVATION ARMY

The Salvation Army has a presence in Olean at 310 E. State Street. They can be reached at 716-372-6740. They are open Tuesday 10:00am-noon and Wednesday/Thursday 10:00am-2:00pm. “The Salvation Army, an international movement, is an evangelical part of the Universal Christian Church. Its message is based on the Bible. Its ministry is motivated by the love of God. Its mission is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ and to meet human needs in His name without discrimination.”

SISTER JOHNICE TO THE RESCUE

If you are into a general beginning-of-the-year clean-out and have large amounts of household goods, food and clothing to donate, please load up your vehicle and head to Buffalo’s east side to pay your respects to one earthmover of a fearless Felician nun, Sister Johnice, at Response to Love, who just recently took on would-be thieves trying to remove gutters from the old St. Adalbert’s school building used for this charity. She made the Buffalo television news a few weeks ago by racing outside while the would-be heist was in process. This diminutive nun took down the very tall ladder while the culprit was still on the roof. The two bad guys got away, but Sister Johnice saved the gutters. And you can save the day for the hundreds of people ministered to daily at The Response To Love Center at 130 Kosciuszko Street behind the church.

SISTERS CARE CENTER

The Sisters Care Center collaborates with other agencies to provide key services around health and wellness, education, employment, and social services. In addition to these services, their clients also have an opportunity to work with a nurse and a dietician to help them reach their health and wellness goals. Contact them at 716-894-7030.

How is it you will respond to love? Pick one.

2023 SCHOLARSHIP PROCESS OPEN

Cattaraugus Region Community Foundation Now Accepting Applications

OLEAN - The Cattaraugus Region Community Foundation’s 2023 scholarship process for will open to applications from area students on February 1. Students can apply using the online scholarship portal at cattfoundation.org/apply-for-scholarships. Applying using the system’s common application will allow students to quickly apply for any of the more than 80 scholarship opportunities available to them.

In 2022, 124 area students received 170 awards from CRCF-managed scholarship funds, together totaling over $226,250. Scholarships are available to students throughout the region (including, depending on the criteria of each fund, Cattaraugus, Allegany, Chautauque and McKean (PA) counties) for a multitude of interests and career/educational goals. Scholarship awards are made according to specific criteria, so scholarships are available to students at specific high schools, students with different majors, educational/career goals, extracurricular background and more.

The CRCF scholarship system will then match students to scholarships they are eligible for based on the criteria for each award. “The CRCF scholarship program has been one of the Foundation’s largest areas of growth over recent years,” said CRCF Executive Director Karen Niemic Buchheit. “To support so many of our area students as they go on to next chapter of their lives is a true embodiment of our Foundation’s mission to ‘Grow Good’ and improve the lives of those in the Cattaraugus region.”

New awards this year include: Dennis Jones and Wayne Johnston Memorial Dice Run Scholarship - for a student graduating from either Olean High School or Archbishop Walsh-Academy who will be attending a 4-year college planning to study business or a business-related field of study. Brian O’Connell Sr. Memorial Scholarship - for a graduating senior of Olean High School who will be pursuing an education-related academic major and is involved in community service. Sondra J. Fox Scholarship - for a student from Cattaraugus or McKean County who is pursuing a career in the mental health field with first preference for a student in a master’s level program and second preference for an undergraduate college student who will be entering his/her junior or senior year. Major fields include, but are not limited to, counseling, social work and psychiatric nursing. Terrence and Judith Mark Scholarship - for students graduating from Franklinville Central School/Ten Broeck Academy who will be attending a 2- or 4-year college. Students must have an overall GPA of 80% or higher and an overall GPA of 85% or higher in English. Students should also have participated in a minimum of two extracurricular activities and must provide reference letters

Applicants will apply entirely online and submit supporting documentation such as transcripts and recommendations from chosen references using the online portal. Applications must be completed and submitted by March 20.

Students who have questions may contact CRCF Database and Scholarship Program Manager Tricia Oakley at tricia@cattfoundation.org or 716-701-4016. Anyone interested in establishing a new scholarship fund may contact the foundation for more information.

Vincent C. Horth Memorial Scholarship Established; Graduate of Catt-LV

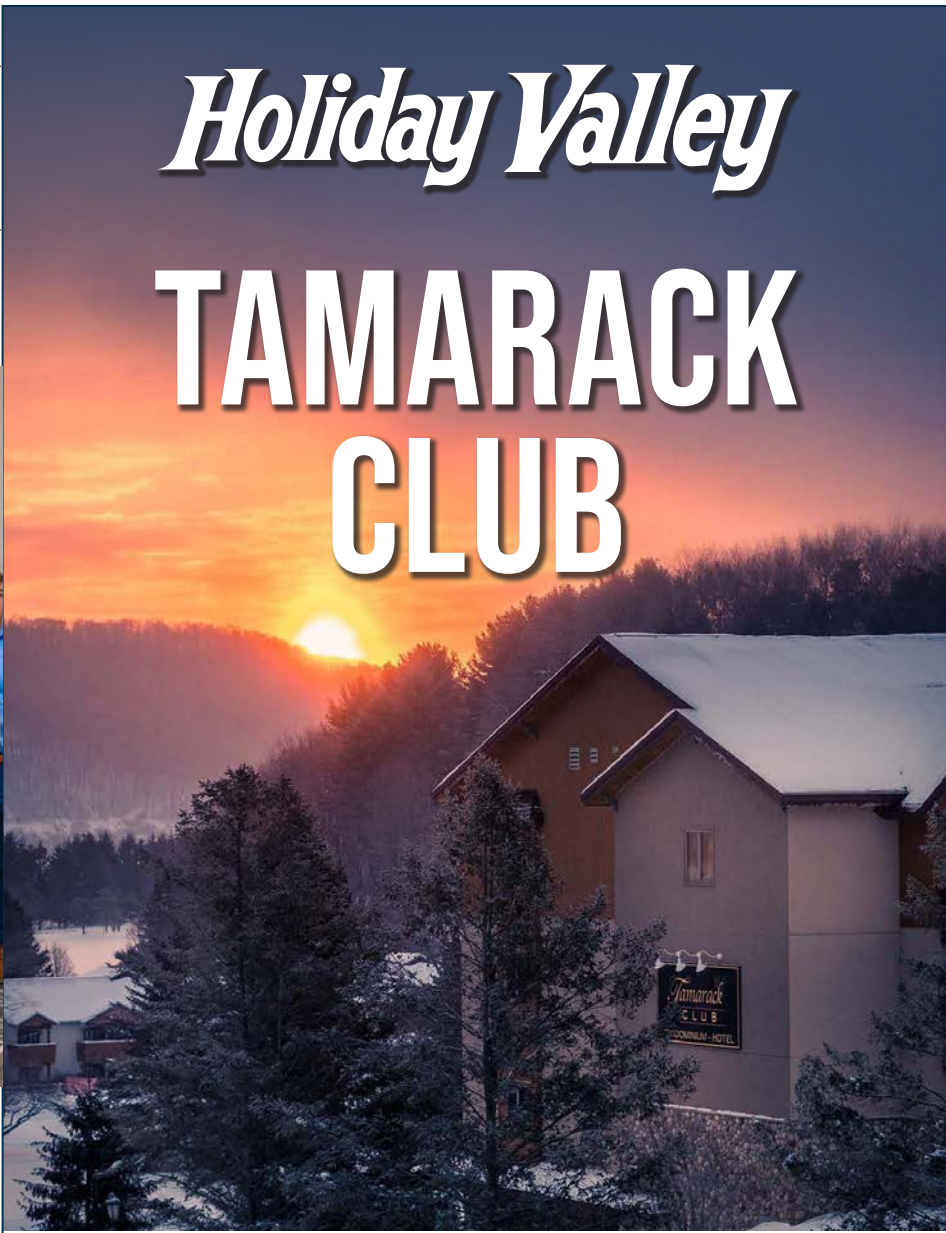

OLEAN - Vincent Horth was a “jack of all trades” who excelled in his work as a mechanic and lineman. Horth, a graduate of Cattaraugus-Little Valley Central School and Jamestown Community College, was known to share his mechanic abilities to help a friend, often working on their cars. Horth worked as a mechanic locally at Rock City Dodge, Landmark Chevrolet and Allegany State Park. Later he went on to become a lineman for the City of Salamanca BPU.

“As a young teenager, Vince was always busy tearing apart machines and engines and fixing whatever was wrong with them. He didn’t use a manual but would tinker until he figured out a solution of some kind,” said Jeff Horth, Vince’s father. “Vince did very well in school, but his passion was using his mind to come up with an idea and using his hands to solve the problem. After working several years in both the mechanical and electrical fields, he became very good at both.”

When Horth passed away in April of 2022, his family decided to honor his memory through a scholarship. The Vincent C. Horth Memorial Scholarship Fund, recently established at the Cattaraugus Region Community Foundation will help support like-minded graduates of Cattaraugus-Little Valley High School who plan to attend a post-secondary school (trade/tech school or college) with a preference for a student studying to be an electrician or auto mechanic. The fund will make its first award in 2023 with a $250

GROWING GREENER

The Allegheny National Forest Celebrates its 100th Year Anniversary in 2023

BY LINDA DEVLIN, ANF VISITORS BUREAU

The Allegheny National Forest will be sharing and celebrating its 100th Year Anniversary with the public during 2023.

On September 24, 1923, the Allegheny National Forest (ANF) was established. The ANF is the only National Forest in Pennsylvania. The Forest, now one hundred years later in 2023, is a success story of regeneration and regrowth.

THE DOWNFALL OF A FOREST

In 1923 these lands looked vastly different. This area in northwestern Pennsylvania was commonly referred to as the "Allegheny Brush Pile." The trees had been clear cut by timber companies to meet the demands of a growing nation. Lumber was needed for cabins and barns. In 1840, a circular saw could process 10,000 board feet of lumber per day. The tanning industry was also a major forest industry in Pennsylvania, and it required large quantities of hemlock bark for the tanning process.

During the 1900's, the Allegheny Plateau, once a thriving forest of mostly beech and hemlock, with abundant wildlife, now had low deer counts, and was almost barren. Large landowners simply abandoned the land and moved west in search of new forests. The bare soil left after the logging caused floods, and wildfires were a constant danger.

It was the Weeks Act, passed by the Federal Government in 1911, which changed this story into a success story of regeneration. This act of Congress allowed for land in the eastern states to be purchased for the establishment of National Forests.

A MAJOR COMEBACK

The new forest grew quickly and by the 1940's the forest was primarily second growth. As reforestation took place, many of the older species were replaced by black cherry, red maple, and sugar maple. This change in species helped to fuel the local economy. The local black cherry timber is considered the finest in the world for making fine furniture.

There are now approximately 80 different species of trees in the Allegheny National Forest. This diversity is what provides the amazing fall colors of bright yellow, red, and orange. The hillsides, once barren, are now once again a vibrant growing forest with trees as far as one can see.

One area to experience existing old growth forest is along the hike to Hector Falls. Parking for the fall is approximately two miles down a dirt road, which starts in the town of Ludlow. At the end of the trek you will find a waterfall which plummets from a rectangular shaped rock face. The area has a lost world type of feeling. GPS coordinates are 41.6853 -78.975067.

Wildlife has also returned. A special research area on the ANF and nearby lands is the Kinzua Quality Deer Cooperative which is based on the science of quality habitat for quality deer.

It was after World War II when families first discovered the joys of camping and outdoor recreation on the National Forests. Today, the ANF has over 3.7 million visitors annually on its 514,029 acres, with camping and cabins, fishing, boating, hiking, biking and mountain biking, plus ATV and snowmobiling trails. In all, there are over 600 miles of multi-use trails. It is now often remarked that the Forest is "so big, so green."

YEAR-LONG CELEBRATION

To mark the Centennial of the Forest a variety of stories, outreach at events, and planned activities will be held throughout the year to celebrate this amazing story of regeneration and recovery.

One upcoming event is the Full Moon Walk on Friday, February 3 from 5:30-6:30pm. Guided by the light of the moon, this will be a family-friendly exploration of the Moon and life in the forest. The Moon Walk will begin at Timberdoodle Flats Interpretive Parking Lot, along Route 59 in the Allegheny National Forest. It is suggested you wear your hiking or winter boots, weather appropriate clothing, and bring along a flashlight. For additional information on this event please call 814-363-6000. For future events check out VisitANF.com/events. For travel information, including camping and cabins in the Allegheny National Forest please call 800-473-9370 or download the Adventure Guide from VisitANF.com.

Rachele Dove: Certified Pilates Instructor, Survivor, Now Offering One-On-One Sessions Inside Core Performance Fitness Studio in Ellicottville

By CAROL FISHER-LINN

You know how you might meet someone, and something in the back of your brain says, this one's a keeper. It may consist of no more than a brief exchange, or a pouring out of one's heart to a stranger, but you just know... this is a very special person whom you need in your life. I felt exactly that way when I serendipitously befriended and was mutually befriended by the very incredible and amazing Rachele Dove.

This young woman is joining the ranks of the young entrepreneurial whiz kids in this community who take life by the horns and decide that they want to drive their own bus, be their own boss, and start their own business. Rachele has established her own brand-new business, Sunshine Pilates by Rae. Rachele is a STOTT Pilates instructor who specializes in Neurological Pilates, Injury Rehab and Athletics. She is offering one-on-one sessions inside Core Performance Health & Fitness Studio, 30 Bristol Lane, Ellicottville, NY.

Pilates can be a great exercise for older adults or those recovering from injury due to its low-impact exercises and subtle movements. There are many forms of Pilates. The main difference between them is the type of equipment used. Rachele offers all types of Pilates (mat, chair Pilates, injury, rehab, barre and neurological conditioning) and a program on the Reformer machine. Reformer Pilates is a form of exercise that shares the principles of centering, concentration, control, precision, breath, and flow with traditional classes.

Webmd tells us the following: "Some studies have shown that Pilates could help with weight control as well as increasing core strength to improve stability, improve posture, increase flexibility, and ease lower back pain. Pilates is also a valuable tool for physical rehabilitation. In one review of 23 studies, 17 studies found that Pilates reduced pain and disability in individuals with a variety of conditions, including back pain, neck pain, scoliosis, and multiple sclerosis. Pilates is not an aerobic exercise. But it can reduce stress, which does benefit the heart. In most cases, Pilates is safe for pregnant women, seniors, and children. Beginners should learn with the help of a certified Pilates instructor."

Now, as Paul Harvey used to say (go ask your parents or grandparents who he was) here's the rest of the story: Rachele isn't just a health fanatic who decided she likes Pilates and getting certified to teach it would make a fun business opportunity in a town devoted to athleticism and health. Although that may be true, here's the part of the story that tells you how she got here.

Today, Rachele Dove is a 34-year-old young woman who has been teaching Pilates for 10 years, after she first went to workout in a Pilates studio 12.5 years ago... as a form of rehab following a massive stroke at age 21. Now, this stroke took her out, big time. She couldn't speak. Couldn't move her right side. Couldn't walk. Couldn't swallow and needed to be tube fed. To top it off, she couldn't even smile her sweet, beautiful smile. This twenty-one-year-old Olympic hopeful was a snowboard instructor at Whistler, B.C. with plans to go to Vermont in the fall of 2010 to try out for the Olympic team.

But, in June 2010, her destiny changed in an instant.

This young aspiring athlete became a victim of her own body. Instead of being surrounded by healthy strong young athletes, she became surrounded by therapists - speech, physio, occupational, kinesio, and she underwent treatments from seeing a nutritionist, swimming, hyperbaric oxygen treatments and more. Of course, her friends and family were with her the whole way.

Her mother started a blog to update people and took a leave of absence from her job. They all got to work, with Rachele at the helm. Instead of a snowboard she had a wheelchair, braces, and every other kind of equipment to get her back in the game. She fought like the devil was on her heels and worked diligently to outrun him. In two years, she was back up on the boards, and later riding her bike on unforgiving terrain, acquiring a few bumps and stitches along the way.

She was teaching Pilates even though she hadn't quite relearned the art of speech, crediting her clients with patience as they learned how to read her cues as she taught them. And today, Rachele invites you - especially if you are rehabbing, recovering, or rebuilding your body to train and recover with her guiding you along, because, after all, she has "been there, done that."

Remember I said that you sometimes you meet someone and you know right away that someone is a keeper? Hope my story helps you to understand why I felt that way when I first met Rachele. Here's how you can reach her: To book an appointment or learn more about Rachele's services, call her cell at 716-338-8568, email rae.m.dove@gmail.com, and be sure to follow her on FB/IG @sunshinepilatesbyrae.

BLOOD DONATIONS NEEDED

WNY Red Cross Chapter Urges Donors to Schedule an Appointment Soon!

By JESSICA SCULTZ

Let's get straight to the point: the WNY American Red Cross could really use your help! The need for new blood is constant to ensure a healthy and reliable supply. All blood types are welcome and your contribution could help save or change a life. The Western New York chapter serves Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Erie, Niagara, Orleans, Wyoming and Genesee counties and any participation is most helpful.

Blood that is donated through the Red Cross is used to help patients of all ages, including burn victims, trauma patients, patients with cancer and other chronic diseases. Though there are some requirements to be able to donate, it's actually a very easy process. You just need to be over the age of 16, weigh at least 110 lbs., be in good health and feeling well. (Some medications may limit your ability to participate, so it's always best to speak with your health professional before scheduling an appointment.)

You can call to set up an appointment at the Buffalo office, 786 Delaware Avenue, 716-886-7500 or by reaching out to the Falconer office, 50 Hough Hill Road, 716-664-5115. Please also keep in mind that you can check your local community calendars for closer donation events if you are unable to set something up for one of the main locations. Oftentimes, local schools, churches and sometimes even businesses will host Blood Drives to help. Go solo, plan it with a family member, or gather a group of friends and make your donation appointment part of a special day to share.

For those here in the Ellicottville area, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, located at 6360 Route 242 East, will be hosting an American Red Cross Blood Drive on Friday, February 10 at the church from 1:00pm-6:00pm. You can book your time slot online at recrossblood.org, where you can also search other upcoming blood drives in the area.

Giving blood, gives back to the community. Sign up to donate today!

DIABETES EDUCATION

Bertrand Chaffee Hospital Accredited for Quality Self-Management and Support

SPRINGVILLE - Bertrand Chaffee Hospital has achieved and maintained accreditation by the Association of Diabetes Care & Education Specialists (ADCES) since 2013. Diabetes education services utilize a collaborative process through which people with or at risk for diabetes work with a diabetes educator, registered dietician, and pharmacist to receive individualized care to help them reach their health goals. Diabetes education is a covered Medicare benefit when delivered through an accredited program and it is covered by most other insurances.

"Evidence shows diabetes education and support is helping people with diabetes to lower their A1c's and obtain the knowledge and skills to better self-manage their condition," said Sacha Uelmen, Director of Accreditation at ADCES. "That is why we need programs like Bertrand Chaffee to make these services available in their community."

Bertrand Chaffee offers the five Diabetes Self-Management Education and Support (DSMES) classes each offered 6 times throughout the year, pre-diabetes classes, and a monthly diabetes support group. Please note that only pre-registered patients can attend.

"We are happy to offer this educational opportunities to our community members," commented Kathy Hebdon, certified Diabetes Educator at Bertrand Chaffee Hospital. "We hope you will consider taking advantage of any of these classes to prioritize your health in 2023."

For more information about the diabetes education program at Bertrand Chaffee Hospital or to register for any of these educational opportunities, please call 716-592-9643. Bertrand Chaffee Hospital is located at 224 E. Main Street in Springville, NY. Find them on the web at bertrandchaffee.com.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Horth's family also will raise funds to support the scholarship fund through a softball tournament, which will be held for the second time this May at the Cattaraugus Fireman's Club. Horth enjoyed sports, particularly softball, as well as bowling, and loved the outdoors. He enjoyed riding his motorcycle, mountain biking, boating and tubing on Kinzua and even became a champion go-kart racer. He loved to spend time with his special dog, "Duck," the German Shepherd he had wanted all his life.

"Vince was well liked and anyone who knew him had only good things to say about him. He would often put aside his own plans to help others," continued Jeff. "By establishing this scholarship in Vince's name, we hope to provide a little support to someone pursuing a career in the trades and at the same time remember Vince for all that he was."

"It is an honor to be able to manage this scholarship fund that memorializes a special young man who passed too soon," said CRCF Executive Director Karen Niemic Buchheit. "So often, people like Vince are the unsung heroes in our world, and we are so pleased that this scholarship will help support young people in his mold for many years to come."

Donations can be made to the Vincent C. Horth Memorial Scholarship Fund at the Cattaraugus Region Community Foundation, 301 North Union St., Suite 203, Olean, NY 14760 or online at cattfoundation.org.

ONE STOP CAREER CENTER

Resources Available for Employers and Those Looking for Employment

OLEAN - What exactly is the Cattaraugus One Stop Career Center? Bret Marvin, center manager, replied, "Our goal is to provide constructive, convenient information to employers, businesses, workers and job seekers in Cattaraugus County. We are part of a nationwide workforce development system designed to help capable employees find and train for better jobs and to help employers find and train qualified employees."

One resource that many employers use at the center is the Basic Skills Assessment. "Employers utilize the testing, but many employers aren't sure what exactly it is," added Mr. Marvin.

He continued, "Our fully trained One Stop staff offers FREE Basic Skills assessment testing (TABE test) to let individuals and potential employers know what areas they may be strong in (or what areas may need brushing up). Many local employers now require TABE testing prior to consideration for employment." Please contact Cindy Kifer at 716-373-1880 ext. 261, for availability and more information.

In addition to the testing, workshops are planned in person every month. In addition to computer training and job search skills, the orientation/career planning workshop is a great tool for those new to unemployment, looking to change job paths or new to the area.

Cheryl Keesler, Employment Specialist stated, "This workshop provides an overview of the job search and career development resources and services offered through the One Stop. It also provides information on a variety of tools in order to research career opportunities and the steps necessary for achieving specific goals."

Most services are offered at no cost to the job seeker. The One Stop Career Center is located at 175 North Union Street in downtown Olean with hours 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. For more information, to register for the workshop, or questions, please call 716-375-2890 or visit online at Cattco.Org/one-stop.
