Honoring Our Local Heroes, Past & Present

Write a Letter, Attend a Ceremony, Spend Time with a Veteran... Hear Their Stories and Honor Them This Veteran's Day

BY CAROL FISHER-LINN

November is here. Thanksgiving comes to mind as the last vestiges of Halloween exit and we find ways to settle into the upcoming winter months. What sometimes gets lost in that calendar shuffle is Veteran's Day, particularly when it lands on a weekend and there is no day off attached to it for anyone who is not a federal worker.

We've been honoring our veterans in the fall since World War I, or The Great War – you know, the one famous for its Christmas truce and soccer games in no man's land between the two enemies in frozen trenches in Belgium. This happened in 1914 and perhaps served as an example for the 1918 armistice, or truce, to end the hostilities which was agreed upon at 11:00am on November 11th.

Cattaraugus County has a long and proud history of military service. Our cemeteries are final resting places for local heroes from the Revolutionary and Civil Wars to the present. The WWI and WWII Veterans display at the Museum in Machias has been removed but they invite those persons interested in our veterans to watch the stories gathered from local veterans.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS AND HOW IT AFFECTS OUR HEALTH

Daylight Saving Time (DST) ended in the U.S. and Canada on Sunday, November 5, 2023. It's a time period that I, like countless others, dread. We may gain more daylight in the early morning hours, but the nights start to creep in as soon as 4:30pm. Growing up I believed that we did this time change for the farmers in the spring and then the kids waiting for the bus in the fall. But as it turns out, I was wrong about both of those assumptions.

DST was first implemented in the U.S. with the Standard Time Act of 1918, a wartime measure for seven months during World War I in the interest of adding more daylight hours to conserve energy resources. Year-round DST, or "War Time", was implemented again during World War II. So what does Daylight Savings Time have to do with fitness, health and nutrition?

A CELEBRATION OF HOLIDAY CHEER IN A WINTER WONDERLAND

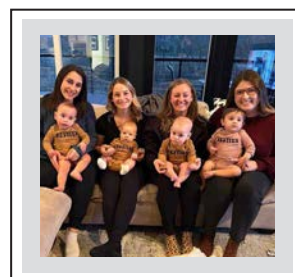

The most wonderful time of year is quickly approaching and the village of Ellicottville will soon transform into a snow globe of winter bliss! Families are planning their Thanksgiving travels and counting down the days until the ski lifts start spinning. Restaurants are ready to launch their new seasonal menus and our local retailers are anxious to welcome visitors searching for all the perfect presents for everyone on their gift-giving lists. So book your accommodations, pack your bags and make your way to Ellicottville November 24th to kick off the holiday season in style as the Ellicottville Chamber of Commerce presents "Christmas in Ellicottville" - an iconic celebration filled with Santa, his elves, and plenty of holiday cheer! ... page 04

Enjoy All Natural Candles with Enchanted Mountain Candle Co.

A small business with a passion for pouring all natural soy wax candles, Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. was founded by owner and operator Emily Britt in February of 2023. After countless months of research and finding the right technique, Emily explained that the vision for clean and natural products was always a top priority. "I like to make sure the candles have no harmful chemicals in them, so that people feel safe burning them or melting them in their home." The company has had an impressive year since its launch ... page 08

Holiday season is upon us and we all have that one friend or family member who is a challenge to shop for. Here's an idea: find them something truly unique while not only supporting a small business, but another culture as well. The Seneca-Iroquois National Museum in the Onöhsagwé:de' Cultural Center is hosting the perfect opportunity to check these "difficult" friends off your gift giving list with their annual Winter Art Market on Saturday, November 18th from 10:00am-4:00pm.

Highlighting Native vendors and their amazing works, the Winter Art Market has become one of the museum's much beloved events. Director Hayden Haynes was excited to share some details about this year's market, which is free and open to the public.

ROCKETCUP COFFEE

Coffee That Fuels Community and Empowers People to Connect

By COLLEEN EVANS

Coffee and community, it's an unbeatable pair and for one coffee company, the foundation of their entire business. RocketCup Coffee is a mission-based collective that looks to connect consumers with rich blends of specialty coffee, while growing positive change throughout the community.

The three partners of RocketCup Coffee, Steve McClain, Tom Cullen, and Mackenzie Bush, knew immediately that the pursuit of community was the key to providing a lasting and meaningful business. So, what better way to achieve that than joining together for a cup of coffee? Founded in 2022, this process didn't happen overnight. Before a name even came about, the real goal was finding and structuring a business plan that incorporated realistic ways to revitalize the community, and even the world. "Revitalization is so important to us and that is the base to our mission," Tom Cullen explains "...we really believe in community". An inspiring brand that not only hits the mark with their mission but of course their coffee.

The coffee itself that's offered through RocketCup goes through an extensive and well cared for process. This isn't your typical coffee; what they offer is a specialty coffee. The bar is set high in each stage of the production process and is held to a higher standard than the industry norm. From the soil used in the planting, to the care put into harvesting, the end result is an exceptional blend that's rich in flavor and ready to be enjoyed. Once you've had a sip you won't ever want to go back, and that's okay because they have a subscription-based option to deliver to wherever you may be!

RocketCup offers their blended specialty coffee through their website RocketCupCoffee.com for subscription and online orders, as well as in their newly opened café. RocketCup Coffee Café, which just opened its doors two weeks ago, offers in house products as well as fresh coffee prepared by their highly trained baristas.

A perfect addition to the neighborhood for anyone looking to enjoy a gourmet beverage, the café also serves as RocketCup Coffee's headquarters of sorts. "This is a place where we package and ship coffee, and it's a café and community center," Steve McClain explains. "It's community - that's what this is. We meet people for a cup of coffee and smile and think about the future and build things and make positive change and that's what we're really about." And it's true! A day behind the counter isn't set to the typical fast-paced push you'd find in a chain; it's a place to get to know your barista, to converse, and really savor the moment.

Enjoying a coffee is more than just having a drink, it's taking in an experience that can perfectly set your day. At RocketCup Coffee, a large focus of the business is providing a superior everyday cup to consumers, but also by making this available in your workplace. Employees typically get their coffee before or after their workday, leaving them with little options in the office when the coffee pot is lacking. RocketCup is trying to change that perspective and bring a top-of-the-line coffee to all workforces and organizations across the country.

The Cattaraugus based business is currently offering a limited promotion. While they always offer coffee tastings, they're currently running this opportunity at no charge. Yes, that's right, free in-office coffee tasting brought directly to you to enjoy! Imagine a morning happy hour of sorts: employees are able to gather for a cup of coffee and conversation, testing specialty blends and experiencing the rich flavor of premium grown beans. This offer extends beyond just the Western New York area, as they have plans to head to New York City this month and look forward to bringing their specialty coffee across the country.

RocketCup encourages employers and organizations, big or small, to reach out for this complimentary tasting at no charge. Their contact is available on their website at RocketCupCoffee.com.

The coffee-based company goes beyond the expectations of providing just an excellent product, they provide an experience and initiative for consumers and fellow businesses to want to enjoy and give back. All purchases have a community outreach project that they benefit from, and the subscription-based orders even provide the choice of funding.

RocketCup Coffee continues to amaze the community with their own grant opportunity.

WINTER ART MARKET

Shop Native Works at the Onöhsagwë:de' Cultural Center Nov. 18th

By JESSICA SCHULTZ

Holiday season is upon us and we all have that one (or three) friends who are a challenge to shop for. Either they already have everything or they just don't know what they want! Here's an idea: find them something truly unique while not only supporting a small business, but another culture as well. The Seneca-Iroquois National Museum in the Onöhsagwë:de' Cultural Center is hosting the perfect opportunity to check these "difficult" friends off your gift giving list with their annual Winter Art Market on November 18th from 10:00am-4:00pm.

Highlighting Native vendors and their amazing works, the Winter Art Market has become one of the museum's much beloved events. Director Hayden Haynes was excited to share some details about this year's market, which is free and open to the public. "The Onöhsagwë:de' Cultural Center (OCC) has a new Beadwork exhibit and a Retrospective exhibit of Carson Waterman's art," Hayden said. "We really want to focus on our culture's artists and all the traditional works that they create. We have 21 Native vendors signed up, each offering their handcrafted specialties." Just a few of the vendors you can expect include:

- Joni Crouse & Toni Kettle: Handmade holiday wreaths
- Penny Minner & Tammy Hoag: Cornhusk crafts and baskets
- Cliff Redeye: Leatherwork
- Cami Jones: Flower art, ceramics, pottery and Christmas cookies
- Denise Sundown: Ribbon dresses and skirts
- Lyle Logan: Original artwork and prints
- Wanda Wilson: Native jewelry and beadwork
- Dave Farnham: Antler and stone sculptures
- Janet Dalimonte: Various crafts

There are so many more artists and craftsmen planning to offer their works, and don't forget there is the museum itself to explore, which also has a gift shop that features not only souvenirs but native tinctures, salves and remedies. And if you are spending all day exploring the museum and the market, you'll probably work up an appetite. That is why each year the museum has someone come in to offer Native foods for visitors to purchase. Enjoy delicacies such as hominy soup, fry bread, cornbread and items made with the "Three Sisters" (corn, beans and squash).

That's a big day right there, but once the Winter Market is over, Hayden encourages the public to return to the center to take in upcoming events and explore even more inside the museum. "For 2023, we have the last presentation in Part II of our Fall Speaker series on Wednesday, November 22nd from 6:00-7:30pm," he said. "Ansley Jemison (Seneca, Wolf Cl.) will discuss 'Maintaining an Oral Tradition in a Digital World.' Looking ahead into 2024, March 30th will be our annual juried Haudenosaunee Spring Art Show, and August 2nd will be the opening of our next major exhibition on Cornplanter."

Hayden also wanted to note, "If you haven't seen the Living Longhouse yet, we invite you to come and check it out. The Living Longhouse will close for the winter on December 1st and will reopen Memorial Day weekend of 2024. The museum store has tons of new items for shoppers as well, so it's always worth a visit after you peruse our fantastic exhibits."

The Onöhsagwë:de' Cultural Center is located at 82 W. Hetzel Street in Salamanca, NY. For more information on the center and any of its events, go to senecamuseum.org, email info@senecamuseum.org or call 716-945-1760.

ECS PROJECT CHRISTMAS

ELLICOTTVILLE - The Ellicottville Central School Project Christmas committee would like to extend their deepest gratitude to the Ellicottville community for their support of Project Christmas over the past decades. Project Christmas works to provide Ellicottville Central School District families with a means to obtain food and gifts for their children. This year the program will help 40+ families. Monetary donations to assist this service in our community may be sent to: Ellicottville Central School - Project Christmas, c/o Nurse Karin Hager, 5873 Route 219, Ellicottville, NY 14731. Checks should be made out to 'Project Christmas'. Questions may also be directed to Nurse Hager at 716-699-2318 x 1604 or email khager@ecsny.org. The committee thanks you for your anticipated continued support. May you and your families have a very safe, healthy, and happy holiday season!

CHRISTMAS IN ELLICOTTVILLE

A Celebration of Holiday Cheer in a Picturesque Winter Wonderland

ELLICOTTVILLE - The most wonderful time of year is quickly approaching and the village of Ellicottville will soon transform into a snow globe of winter bliss! Families are planning their Thanksgiving travels and counting down the days until the ski lifts start spinning. Restaurants are ready to launch their new seasonal menus and our local retailers are anxious to welcome visitors searching for all the perfect presents for everyone on their gift-giving lists.

Book your accommodations, pack your bags and make your way to Ellicottville November 24th to kick off the holiday season in style as the Ellicottville Chamber of Commerce presents "Christmas in Ellicottville" - an iconic celebration filled with Santa, his elves, and plenty of holiday cheer! The downtown business district offers a unique shopping experience within a walkable 4-block footprint, filled with festive attractions and fun entertainment.

"Christmas in Ellicottville will kick off Friday, November 24th with a special lighting ceremony of Ellicottville's Village lights and our beloved Ski Tree located in front of the Post Office," said Brian McFadden, executive director of the Ellicottville Chamber of Commerce. "The moment those lights turn on is magical!"

A tradition for many, Christmas in Ellicottville will run all weekend long, Nov. 24-26th and will feature a full schedule of holiday-themed activities for kids and the kid at heart. Thanks to event sponsors, weekenders can anticipate holiday music throughout the village streets, real live reindeer, visits with Santa (including fire truck rides and breakfast with the big guy), horse and wagon rides, as well as kid's crafts, cookie decorating, and more - ALL FREE!

Can't make it to Ellicottville Thanksgiving weekend? Celebrate "Christmas in Ellicottville" all through the month of December. "There's always something going on here in Ellicottville, especially this time of year with the holidays right around the corner," said McFadden.

For additional information about this year's festivities or to learn more about sponsorship, go to www.ellicottvillenyc.com or phone the Ellicottville Chamber of Commerce toll-free at 1-800-349-9099. Watch this publication in upcoming weeks as additional details become available.

IRISH CHRISTMAS AUCTION

Bidding Frenzy Expected on Recently Discovered "Bob" Creation

ELLICOTTVILLE - As the trees turn bare and the days grow shorter, the town of Ellicottville shifts into winter mode. Boots are broken out, summer tires are replaced, and calendars begin to fill with a plethora of holiday traditions unique to the area. Bob McCarthy's Irish Christmas, a seasonal highlight, is a hallmark of Ellicottville generosity and compassion. Hosted by the Bob McCarthy Foundation, the event serves to raise funds for Santa's Workshop and the Cattaraugus County Santa Sheriff Program as well as year-round family support.

McCarthy, a master craftsman, the voice of Ellicottville and a friend to all, was a passionate philanthropist. He is honored each year by the community togetherness embodied by Irish Christmas. The auctioning of baked goods, handcrafted items and neat finds from local businesses allow both Santa's Workshop and the Santa Sheriff Program to provide holiday presents and meals to local families in need.

In our 18th year, Bob McCarthy's Irish Christmas will be held at EBC's Brew Hall on Friday, December 1st at 6:00pm. This venue offers plenty of room for the expected crowd, but get there early so you don't miss a single moment of the fun! Admission is, of course, free!

Ellicottville Eagles Heading to States

The Ellicottville Eagles earned a hard-fought 3-0 victory over the defending state champion, Fillmore High School of Section V last Friday evening in the Far-West Regional Championship at West Seneca West HS and sealed the deal on Ellicottville's first-ever trip to the State Championship tournament. Both the offensive and defensive sides displayed stellar skills as they paved their way to the winning goal, while shutting down the opposing team again and again. The Eagles will travel to Goshen High School just south of Albany to take on Poland High School of Section III in the State semifinal match this Friday, Nov. 10th at 1:15pm.

If you're planning on making the trip east to cheer on these boys, see the Ellicottville Sports Boosters Facebook page for ticketing info.

VETERAN'S DAY

HONORING OUR VETERANS, PAST AND PRESENT

Attend a Parade, Write a Letter, Spend Time with a Veteran You Know or Don't Know... Hear Their Stories and Honor Them This Veteran's Day

The Catt. Co. Museum shares the stories of (below, L-R) Harold Nick Baker (Navy), Julie Armstrong (Air Force), Joseph Keary (Army), and Kirk Snyder (Marines).

November is here. Thanksgiving comes to mind as the last vestiges of Halloween exit and we find ways to settle into the upcoming winter months. What sometimes gets lost in that calendar shuffle is Veteran's Day, particularly when it lands on a weekend and there is no day off attached to it for anyone who is not a federal worker.

We've been honoring our veterans in the fall since World War I, or The Great War... you know, the one famous for its Christmas truce and soccer games in no man's land between the two enemies in frozen trenches in Belgium. Reading the history, it's interesting and humorous to note that the Scots who were involved wore their kilts into battle. During the hustle of the game, the amused Germans discovered that the Scots were indeed going commando and so noted in their letters home. This happened in 1914 and perhaps served as an example for the 1918 armistice, or truce, to end the hostilities which was agreed upon at 11:00am on November 11th (11/11/11).

Even though the Treaty of Versailles was signed seven months later, which formally ended one of the deadliest wars in history in that time (over 16 million people died), it was November 11th that the weary public remembered as the day that ended the disastrous war. It became known as "Armistice Day," and in 1919 President Woodrow Wilson designated 11/11 as the first commemoration of the holiday with parades, celebrations, public gatherings and a short pause of school and business activities at 11:00am. It became an annual national holiday by congressional resolution in 1926.

Communities across America made a pretty big deal of Armistice Day. Remember, Veteran's Day is for both living veterans and veterans who have passed on. So, we remember and honor, or celebrate, those veterans still with us. As a child in Sloan, NY, I attended ceremonies with my family and did so until I moved into my own home in another town as a married woman. My father was a veteran, having served for 18 years of his life, and my mom belonged to the American Legion Auxiliary. Of course, we attended. This celebration honored servicepersons like my dad who came home after serving in WWII wartime in the South Pacific, meeting me for the first time when I was two years old!

I remember it being called Armistice Day, and then the name being changed to Veteran's Day in 1954 when President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed legislation changing the name to honor all veterans, not just those from WWI. As with such things, more changes were to come because of the Uniform Monday Holiday Act passed in 1968 designating Veteran's Day to be observed on the fourth Monday in October. Well, that caused confusion and disapproval, with many states continuing to celebrate on November 11, regardless. To end the confusion and bring everyone on the same page, President Gerald Ford signed a law returning the observation of Veteran's Day to November 11 starting in 1978. So now, as with most other holidays, if Veteran's Day falls on a Saturday or Sunday, the federal government observes the holiday on the previous Friday or the following Monday. Veteran's Day 2023 observances in Cattaraugus County are scheduled for Friday, November 10, 2023. County offices will be closed in observance of Veteran's Day. Post offices will be closed on Saturday, Nov. 11, and the Postal Service will not deliver regular mail or packages on that date.

HONORING OUR VETERANS

Cattaraugus County has a long and proud history of military service. Our cemeteries are final resting places for local heroes from the Revolutionary and Civil Wars to the present. The WWI and WWII Veteran's display at the Museum in Machias has been removed but they invite those persons interested in our veterans to watch the stories gathered from local veterans (Emil Ash, Norm Marsh, Gary Pence and many others). These stories narrated by the veterans can be found at www.CattCo.org/Veterans-Stories. You can also access "Our Veterans, Their Stories" on the Cattaraugus County Museum's YouTube channel. The Museum continues to display their large and well curated display of Revolutionary and Civil War uniforms, artifacts, and memorabilia. The museum is open Monday through Thursday, 9:00am-4:00pm. They are located at The Stone House (next to the Pines Nursing Home) at 9824 Route 16 in Machias.

During this National Native American Heritage month, it is a good time to remember and honor those Native Americans, including the tens of thousands of American Indians, Alaska and Hawaiian Natives who served willingly in the United States Armed Forces since the Revolutionary War. The story of the Navajo Code Talkers may be the best-known part of the history of Native American military service. It was said by a WWII signal officer from 5th Marine Division that "without the Native Americans, their ability to take Iwo Jima would not have been possible." Imagine, by using a language they were forbidden to use as children in American-run boarding schools, thousands of American lives were saved. Ironic, isn't it? In many Native American communities, ceremonies are held for those Natives entering the armed forces and when they return. Native American veterans are treated with honor and respect in their Native communities. We could learn from them. Today more than 183,000 veterans identify as American Indian or Alaska Native.

LOCAL PARADES AND CEREMONIES

Wherever you live, please check with your local American Legion or VFW to find if they are sponsoring a parade or a ceremony in honor of their local veterans. The Ellicottville American Legion will be holding a Veteran's Day ceremony at the gazebo in front of the Town Hall on Saturday, November 11th at 11:00am. In Springville, a ceremony will be held at the Village Park on Saturday at 11:00am, followed by a lunch for Vets at the local American Legion at 109 Zoar Valley Road and another gathering later that day at the Springville VFW, 650 Main Street. In Salamanca, you are invited to participate in a walk to help prevent veteran suicide - Stop 22 Suicide Awareness Walk. The service begins at 11:00am with registration for the walk at noon and walk commencing at 1:00pm. A free picnic will follow for those who contributed at John Fahrens Post, 61 Wildwood Street.

The nation's largest Veteran's Day event, the New York City Veteran's Day Parade, hosted by the United War Veterans Council, returns for its 104th year on Saturday, November 11, 2023 with nearly 20,000 participants from across the U.S. marching up Fifth Avenue. The event will take place rain or shine from 9:30am-12:30pm and will be live-streamed on military.com.

Know a vet? Invite them to go fishing. The NYS Department of Environmental Conservation is hosting a FREE fishing day on November 11th. There's no fishing license required on those days for the fresh or marine waters of New York State, making it the opportune time for people of all ages to enjoy the day.

Allegany is holding a Veteran's Day craft show on the 11th with over 25 different vendors at the 4th and Maple Complex, North 4th Street. Take a vet and go crafting!

Rockler Woodworking and Hardware on 5085 Transit Road in Buffalo is sponsoring "Turn a pen for a vet" from 1:30-3:00pm. You must register to join them for a special Veteran's Day event and turn a wooden pen for $15. All proceeds from the ticket sales will be donated to the Help Heal Veterans organization. You don't need any experience, but having done this myself, I can assure you it is fun and rewarding to walk out with a pen made of wood that you turned yourself. You will learn the how-tos hands-on and can take home your very own custom-made pen. The $15 fee covers everything. Call 716-631-8922 for an appointment. And here's the deal: if their appointments are full, make an appointment for another day and take a friend who is a vet for a fun day, then treat them to a stop at the Transit Road Anchor Bar for original chicken wings or Ted's for one of their famous hot dogs. Either one is just down the road on your way back to Ellicottville. Yum!

Since 9/11, t2t (Towers to Towers) has been helping America's heroes by providing mortgage-free homes to Gold Star and fallen first responder families with young children and by building specially adapted smart homes for catastrophically injured veterans and first responders. They are also committed to eradicating veteran homelessness and helping America to Never Forget September 11, 2001. Go to their website, t2t.org and find out how you can become involved. Another project supporting vets is Support the Wounded Warrior Project. Learn more about them at support.woundedwarriorproject.org.

Most veterans do not think of themselves as heroes, but they are. Call a vet and tell them how much they are appreciated and why. Many vets are homeless or have no family with whom to spend this special day. Why not invite them to your home for a cook-out or comforting home-cooked meal (perhaps Thanksgiving?) to show them how much they are appreciated. Ask them to tell you their stories, giving them your total attention and appreciation.

If you are unable to bring anyone to your home, send them a handwritten note saying "thank you for your service." Offer to make a date to spend time with them. Find out if they have an organization that is special to them and donate in their name.

Put a message on your social media pages wishing them a happy Veteran's Day, expressing your appreciation for every person who has served our country.

Are you an employer? Follow this example that I recently found on Quora on the internet: It featured a photo of a man with a dog and the following caption: "This is a retired vet who struggled to get a job because he needs his service dog! Abilene Lowes hired them BOTH!!" Kudos to them and many thanks for the fine example.

Happy Veteran's Day to all veterans sent with love and gratitude for their part in keeping our beloved America free.

TREE OF LIFE

HomeCare & Hospice Launch Annual Ornament Sale

OLEAN - Every year during the holiday season, HomeCare & Hospice Foundation holds their Tree of Life Ceremonies as a special way to remember and honor lost loved ones. This year, a beautifully designed silver dove can be engraved to an individual's liking. Ceremonies will be held in Batavia, Olean and through the virtual means where communities can come together to put their ornaments on trees.

This year there will also be an opportunity to honor lost loved ones from Total Senior Care at the Olean ceremony. "We are looking forward to bringing families together during the holidays to remember their lost loved ones and to remind them that they have support," said Melissa Sullivan, Chief Executive Officer at HomeCare & Hospice.

The 2023 ornament is $20 each, with engraving, and can be displayed at the Tree of Life ceremony of your choice, picked up at a HomeCare & Hospice office or shipped directly to you for an additional $5 per ornament. Ornament sales are now open and can be placed at <https://2023treeoflife.givesmart.com> or by calling 716-372-2106.

To ensure availability for the Tree of Life ceremonies, order forms must be postmarked, and online orders must be completed by Thursday, November 23rd. Please mail all order forms to the Olean HomeCare & Hospice office at 1225 West State Street, Olean, NY 14760. Please contact HomeCare & Hospice at 716-372-2106 with any questions.

Ceremonies will be held in the following communities:

- Olean: Total Senior Care, 519 N. Union St., Thursday, November 30th at 5:30pm
- Batavia: Richmond Memorial Library, 19 Ross St., Thursday, December 7th at 5:30pm
- Virtual Ceremony via HomeCare & Hospice Facebook Live, Friday, December 8th at 10:00am

SHOP OLEAN

GOACC Reminds Gift Certificate Holders of Expiration Dates

OLEAN - Greater Olean Area Chamber of Commerce is issuing a notice to all consumers, redeemers and receivers of its Shop Olean Gift Certificates that certificates issued (purchased) with a date of December 31, 2018 or earlier will expire and have zero value at the end of this year, December 31, 2023.

Although clear in wording, the basic principle being told is to check your Shop Olean gift certificates for the issue/expiration date. If it shows expiring by 2018, GOACC encourages you to spend them at one of the 282 chamber members who participate in this program.

"As always, please call our office with any questions or for the list of participating members," added Lyndsey Churakos, GOACC Member Services Manager.

Since the law became effective in 2022, the state is giving redeemers five years expiration dates on those purchased in the past - as a rotating date based on year purchased. As some are expiring at the end of 2023, GOACC is sending out this general rule to follow:

- Starting 1/1/24, gift certificates issued before 1/1/19 will have no value.
- Starting 1/1/25, gift certificates issued before 1/1/20 will have no value.
- Starting 1/1/26, gift certificates issued before 1/1/21 will have no value.
- Starting 1/1/27, gift certificates issued before 1/1/22 will have no value.

"A few of our members stopped accepting any of our gift certificates as they didn't want to accept one that wouldn't be accepted at their bank," reported Meme K. Yanetsko, GOACC COO. "We will gladly come to your company and explain this to your staff; although there are thousands of dollars in these gift certificates out there, the majority of those expired have probably been scrapped and not in circulation," she continued.

In accordance with NYS General Business Law Section 396-I, for those that have purchased GOACC gift certificates since January 1st of 2023, they are stamped with a specific expiration date that is exactly 10 years in the future. At the end of that time, the purchased gift certificate will have zero value. This law went into effect on 12/10/22.

GOACC instituted the Shop Olean Gift Certificate Program in 1995 and that year, certificates totaling $9,000 were sold with 35 member businesses involved in the program. For more information regarding the expiration policy, please call 716-372-4433 or email info@oleanny.com.

ENCHANTED MTN. CANDLE CO.

Environmentally Friendly Waxes and Clean, Certified Fragrances

@enchantedmountaincandleco

By COLLEEN EVANS

The golden glow of candlelight, flickering and filling the room with your favorite fragrance, setting the mood for those cold and cozy winter evenings... Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. is here to offer you their artisanal magic to complement any space and welcome a warmth to your home.

A small business with a passion for pouring all natural soy wax candles, Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. was founded by owner and operator Emily Britt in February of 2023. The journey was never a straight path but after countless months of research, Emily was ready to invest in her creativity and run her own business. As she explained, finding the right technique took some time, but the vision for clean and natural products was always a top priority. "I like to make sure the candles have no harmful chemicals in them, so that people feel safe burning them or melting them in their home," she told ellicottvilleNOW.

It's important to know the process and what you're providing in a product, and Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. is set on always filling their line with environmentally friendly waxes and clean certified fragrances. Britt is adamant about continuing to learn and perfect the technique, always challenging herself to give customers the best candles to spark their senses.

Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. has had an impressive year since their launch. Britt has the determination to continuously ignite her business, but what's most impressive is her ever-present artistic nature. A part of the process that cannot be replicated, she incorporates her love for reading and witty word play with the release of a Book Trope Candle Collection. These signature candles take on their own story, telling the tales of passionate perfumes intertwining their paths and captivating your senses.

The "Enemies to Lovers" candle is already a fan favorite from the Book Trope Line and embodies a refreshing scent to spark its own narrative. The candle line is the perfect addition for anyone looking to add a fresh, new fragrance to their home, or gift to an avid book lover. I mean, what better way to compliment a gripping story than by candlelight, right?

The product line continues beyond a book lover's dream. The Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. offers around 15 different scents and in various sizes. Customers have a wide range to choose from, with offerings of 4-, 8-, and 12-ounce hand poured candles, as well as 2.5-ounce soy wax melts. If you find yourself in need of a suggestion, Britt offers one of her top picks: "Maneater is definitely another favorite; it's scented like black cherry merlot and is a very fruity scent, while not being overpowering."

Currently in the making are three soon-to-be-released winter scents, perfect for the upcoming holiday season, along with another book collection to feature four more candles. True to their ever-present care, all candles are made in small batches to ensure the best quality and performance. Are you ready to buy a few of these one-of-a-kind candles? Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. is currently featured at For Crafts Sake It's a Little Bit of Everything (Facebook) at 160 North Union Street in Olean, NY. You can also make purchases on their business page through Etsy under EnchantedMountainsCo.

There are also some upcoming holiday markets they will be featured in, so mark your calendars! On the opening weekend of November 24-26th, they will be at the Hamburg location of the Buffalo Holiday Market running a Black Friday Sale all three days. They will also be featured at the Book Talk Buffalo's Shop Local Holiday Market on December 10th. Another event is in the making for December 2nd and will be announced soon. Follow along to keep up-to-date with events, giveaways and product releases with their social media pages through Facebook and Instagram (@enchantedmountaincandleco) as well as their online Etsy shop at www.enchantedmountainsco.etsy.com.

Extending beyond the holiday season, Britt also just hosted a new event for the business. "I actually just did my first candle making party and it was so much fun!" she said. "I'm already starting to plan the next one!" A new way for groups of friends and family to connect and create, candle parties have been an up-and-coming trend. It's an exciting experience to offer to anyone looking for a unique and creative way to tap into their artistic side.

From candle making, book reading and party hosting, Emily Britt's ambition is ever present in all she offers through Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. Her vision continues

Rolling Back the Clocks: What Does it Have to Do with Fitness, Health and Nutrition?

BY KIM DUKE, CERTIFIED PERSONAL TRAINER

Daylight Saving Time (DST) ended in the U.S. and Canada on Sunday, November 5, 2023. It's a time period that I, like countless others, dread. We may gain more daylight in the early morning hours, but the nights start to creep in as soon as 4:30pm. Growing up I believed that we did this time change for the farmers in the spring and then the kids waiting for the bus in the fall. But as it turns out, I was wrong about both of those assumptions.

Although modern DST has only been used for about 100 years, ancient civilizations are known to have engaged in comparable practices thousands of years ago. For example, the Roman water clocks used different scales for different months of the year to adjust the daily schedules to the solar time.

Many sources also credit Benjamin Franklin for being the first to suggest seasonal time change. However, the idea voiced by the American inventor and politician in 1784 can hardly be described as fundamental for the development of modern DST. After all, it did not even involve turning the clocks. In a letter to the editor of the Journal of Paris entitled, "An Economical Project for Diminishing the Cost of Light," Franklin simply suggested that Parisians could economize candle usage by getting people out of bed earlier in the morning. What's more... Franklin meant it as a joke.

DST was first implemented in the U.S. with the Standard Time Act of 1918, a wartime measure for seven months during World War I in the interest of adding more daylight hours to conserve energy resources. Year-round DST, or "War Time", was implemented again during World War II. So what does DST have to do with fitness, health and nutrition? A LOT!

With the sunshine depleted and colder temperature abundant, you have a recipe for hibernation. Many people actually struggle with a form of depression referred to as SAD or Seasonal Affective Disorder. SAD symptoms start in the fall and continue into the winter months, sapping your energy and making you feel moody. Treatments for SAD include getting as much natural sunlight as possible, exercising regularly and managing your stress levels. There is also light therapy, where a special lamp called a light box is used to stimulate exposure to sunlight.

This seasonal change can also cause weight gain. How many of us comment on putting our winter weight on? Here again, this is mainly due to boredom and a change in our dietary choices. During these months we tend to enjoy more comfort foods. Plus, let's throw a bunch of holidays into the mix that are all about eating and drinking.

So, what to do about all of this? Be aware. Know what is coming and do your best to stay in a routine that includes daily exercise, hydration and a healthy diet. This can be very difficult for so many people. Understand that you are not alone in this struggle. There are apps and gadgets that can remind you to get up and move. There are fitness centers that are full of light and friendly like-minded folks that are still open after dark. And there are plenty of healthy food options to enjoy during these next five months. Before you know it, March will be here and we will once again "spring forward".

Tom Cullen described the importance of this aspect of their business, "We really believe in community. Community first is one of our values and so how do we support and help the community build growth?" He goes on, "We've created these Spark Grants. They're $1000 grants that anyone can apply for and we give out $1000 to a project, so we have a whole bunch of projects on our website and there's a lot more that we'll be doing, but in your community in our community, we want to inspire people to take a step." The Spark Grant is given to various projects to ignite change in any way, whether it be a garden, park bench, mural, or anything else that encourages positive movement.

This outreach really serves as the perfect example of what RocketCup Coffee has to offer. With the ever-present reminder that behind any business there can be a foundation of community and quality, they continue to prove with each outreach that this is more than possible.

RocketCup Coffee Café, while newly opened, is always looking to involve themselves in the happenings of the area with some upcoming events within the community. On November 18th, expect live music to be played in-house while enjoying a cup of coffee. Of course, with the spirit of the holidays approaching, they will be participating in Cattaraugus' Christmas on the Bricks, which begins the weekend of December 8th. On that Friday, December 8th, the café will be hosting Santa Claus to greet visitors with some Christmas cheer. The event aims to encourage local community during the holiday season.

A valued community base, a quality product, and a standard set above the rest, RocketCup Coffee proves to be one to be enjoyed. Blended with the all-around best, find yourself a cup and savor each sip, make your switch today and see the positive things to come!

Follow along on their social media channels on TikTok, Instagram, and Facebook along with their website RocketCupCoffee.com

The Irish Christmas live auction features 15 unique live auction pieces along with a budget friendly basket raffle of more than 40 locally donated gift baskets offering great gifts for those lucky winners. Among the treasures are, believe it or not, some of Bob McCarthy's woodworking originals and special creations from Ed Frederickson, Hughey Dunn and others. You will be able to get a glimpse of auction items on our website and there will be a descriptive program at the event. All auction items are accompanied by a homemade baked item by the legion of local home chefs who bake away to help this unique auction every year.

The auction itself will take place at around 7:00pm in the new beer hall at EBC, hosted by Brooks LeFeber with commentary from his many helpers. We guarantee there will be a bidding frenzy this year on a very special and unique Bob creation that was discovered and donated to the auction.

Enjoy great live entertainment by Buffalo's Crikwater before and after the auction; the band starts at 6:00pm. This community friendly event also has special $5 pricing on all beer and wine thanks to the generosity of EBC. The Taste of Ireland food specials are priced at $5 as EVL's finest restaurants show their support of the event. Food and drink at this outstanding event will not make a dent in your holiday budget!

If you have never attended this great party, you are missing what most describe as the best party in Ellicottville! This is a great way to kick off the Christmas season... enjoying a cocktail with your friends! The Foundation hopes that Ellicottville will open its heart again; if you cannot attend, you can donate at www.bobmccarthyfoundation.com/donate or via the mail at McCarthy Foundation, PO Box 301, Ellicottville, NY 14731. A little goes a long way!

If you would like to bake an item for the auction, contact Katy Arena of Katy's Café at 716-801-2740 by Thursday, November 23rd. If you would like to donate a basket for the basket raffle contact Brooke Szpaicher at 716-244-7752.

ENCHANTED MOUNTAIN CANDLE CO.

to grow as she touches base on some additional workings. "I also make bookmarks and stickers based off of books," she said. "I have a couple contracts with authors that allow me to sell merchandise based off of their books, including Sarah J Maas and Rebecca Yarros."

It's an impressive accomplishment for a business running shy of a year but Emily goes on to explain her motivation is always in drive. "I am working towards eventually having a physical store that I can run myself. I have a toddler and my goal is to make sure that he's set as he gets older, while still have a present parent that's not consumed by their work. I want to show him that you can have a job that you're passionate about."

Enchanted Mountain Candle Co. is growing to become a go-to stop for your candle needs and welcomes you to find your perfect hand poured product at any of their featured locations. It's an enchanting experience of the senses just waiting to be had!
