The City Garage Under New Ownership

Boss Wrench Sean Lowes Announces Retirement; Says Business is “In Excellent Hands”

Trey and Mila Clauss, pictured with their sons, Trennon and Van, became the proud new owners of The City Garage Ski Shop this fall. The family plans to continue the shop's legacy, staying true to its roots.

ELLICOTTVILLE - Late in September on a sunny morning on the porch of 13 Elk Street, ownership of The City Garage Ski Shop changed hands from Sean and Elizabeth Lowes to Trey and Mila Clauss. Sean reflects on his transition approach. “It is most important for me to maintain the legacy of The City Garage; it was never put up for sale on the open market – in my brain, the right answer was always to pass the torch to Trey who has worked so hard for us since 2001 and has, over 20 plus years, significantly contributed to the growth and direction that the shop has taken. The business never would have been successful without my sister Patra’s artistic merchandising skills and with Elizabeth managing all business aspects.”

Sean added that The City Garage has its own unique personality, built first and foremost by its employees and loyal customers. “Our customers have contributed the most to the shop’s growth! Trey and Mila have a unique understanding of the importance of moving forward to grow the business, while maintaining its essence.”

The Boss Wrench looks back on 46 years of selling skis, the past 24 of those years with The City Garage.

EDNA'S AT THE TAMARACK CLUB

New Restaurant Honoring Local Legend Takes Over John Harvard's

By JESSICA SCHULTZ

When one door closes, another one opens, and in this case, quite literally. John Harvard's in the Tamarack Club at Holiday Valley Resort is no more, but that left the space for something new to begin. Edna's at the Tamarack Club (named after the local legend, Edna Northrup) is now open for business.

ellicottvilleNOW spoke with Holiday Valley Marketing Director, Dash Hegeman, about the newest edition to the Valley's dining scene. How did it come to be? What is it serving? Dash was more than ready to share the information with us.

eNOW: What sparked the change from John Harvard's to Edna's? And how did Edna's become the pick of choice?

HEGEMAN: The space was scheduled for some aesthetic and functional renovations. The goal was to make better use of the layout while also freshening up the look of the restaurant. Since that work was happening anyway, it brought about a discussion on the John Harvard's brand. Obviously the name had been part of Holiday Valley ever since the Tamarack Club opened and it had served Holiday Valley well during that time. That said, there was an opportunity to do something new with the dining experience brand and so some very thoughtful discussions were had about changing the name of the restaurant. Ultimately, the decision was made to not only change the name but to pay tribute to one of the founding members of Holiday Valley, Edna Northrup.

eNOW: What range of dishes will be served? Is this a more casual menu or is it going to be more upscale dishes?

HEGEMAN: There will be a nice mix. The goal is to incorporate a lot of local flavors and seasonal ingredients. So you'll see things like beef on weck, eggrolls and stone-fired Margherita pizza. But you'll also have more advanced dishes like a pesto-encrusted Australian seabass with a sweet tomato risotto. Overall, the menu should appeal to a variety of appetites and palates.

eNOW: What type of beverages will be offered? Will there be a full bar or wine/beer only?

HEGEMAN: Edna's at the Tamarack Club offers a full bar with 12 beers on tap, an assortment of wine options and some fantastic specialty cocktails.

eNOW: What is the main goal for the establishment? Will it be a place for strictly dining or will it also boast an entertainment venue as well?

HEGEMAN: The main purpose of the space is for dining. The bar still has TVs at it for people who want to stop by and watch a game while they have a drink.

eNOW: What else is in the future for Holiday Valley's eateries?

HEGEMAN: There is a new Head Chef on staff, Andrew Culver, who is very excited about elevating the dining experience here at the resort. He was very involved in the new Edna's menu and has also been working diligently to make adjustments throughout the rest of the resort that will benefit our guests.

eNOW: Anything else you would like to add?

HEGEMAN: Edna's at the Tamarack Club is now more than just a place to enjoy a great meal and enjoy a fantastic view of the slopes while you eat. It's a part of Holiday Valley history. Edna Northrup was an amazing woman whose influence helped shape the foundation of Holiday Valley. Having the opportunity to highlight her story more and show guests of Holiday Valley what a pioneer she was when it came to skiing in Ellicottville is very exciting. We're talking about a woman who hiked the Appalachian Trail in its entirety, climbed Mt. Rainier at the youthful age of 68 and then at the age of 84 hiked to the Base Camp of Mt. Everest! Her energy and enthusiasm for being in the great outdoors was so inspiring and her passion for Holiday Valley was contagious. Personally, I'm thrilled with the rebrand. The artist who created the logo did a fantastic job of incorporating Edna's signature Tyrolean hat into the design. Jane Eshbaugh gave him a lot of insight into who Edna was and what she liked. He took those details and did a really nice job of creating a logo that is aesthetically clean and works well in the global setting of Holiday Valley.

The new restaurant concept is a fitting tribute to a woman who helped shape the resort into what it is today. Edna's at the Tamarack Club celebrates the long tradition of joyous camaraderie and warm friendships that arise out of sharing a love for skiing and the outdoors. This little glimpse has been absolutely mouth-watering, so head up to the Tamarack Club, open daily during the winter from 11:00am-11:00pm, for an amazing flavor adventure soon.

EVL HAIR LOUNGE

Former Enix Salon Undergoes Transformation; NOW Open for Business

By JESSICA SCHULTZ

It's the time of year, not just for giving, but also for reflection. We're heading into 2024 and making changes, growing, adapting - that's what it's all about. And that's exactly what spurred local business owner, Trina Phillippi into reforming her space. EVL Hair Lounge is now open at 5 E. Washington Street in Ellicottville, in the former Enix Salon location.

The layout has been updated and the decor has undergone some changes, but what remains the same is Trina's approach to a great experience. What sets the Hair Lounge apart from other salons? Trina said, "EVL Hair Lounge is a full concept Aveda salon. Aveda is a 97-99% plant derived company. It is also 100% vegan and cruelty-free, operating off of 100% wind power. Aveda gives back to society and establishes a community with the ingredients of their products."

Trina knows what she's doing. She's been working in the industry with Aveda products for almost 20 years. She started right out of high school, attending Cosmetology courses at Ellicottville CABOCES. The services the salon will be offering include hair coloring, (including bright colors), lightening services such as foiling and balayage techniques, hair cutting for all hair types/lengths and even hair extensions. "Besides Aveda, extensions have been a new passion of mine. I have been working with extensions since 2020 and plan to grow more with these services as well. I am extension certified by Bellami Professional in 4 different extension techniques for different approaches into adding more hair into your natural look. Extensions can be used to add length, volume and create a more unified, overall look to your desired everyday style. Extensions are also a great way to add a pop of color without damaging the natural hair with lightening processes."

She's got a lot services to offer, that's for sure. But what's Trina's favorite? She said, "Throughout my career, I've found a love and passion in long hair, blonding techniques and men's hair cutting."

Trina let us know the new hours of operation and how one should go about booking their appointment. "Our hours are Monday 3:00-7:00pm; Tuesday and Wednesday 10:00am-7:00pm; Thursday 12:00-7:00pm; Friday 9:00am-2:00pm; closed Saturday and Sunday. Services should be booked at least a week in advance to get a guaranteed spot. When booking an appointment, there is a required 24-hour notice of cancellation or full price of the appointment is owed before another service can be rescheduled."

With all the new happenings at the salon, Trina has plenty to keep her busy, but she does have her eye on the future as well. "Looking ahead into 2024, I will be seeking out new stylists for hire. Aiming to grow! I do not have any events planned at the moment, but from time to time I do like to get raffles and contests going! That's always fun in the salon!"

She ended with, "The salon is a relaxed environment that offers complimentary coffee, tea, water and other beverages. I've designed the space with plenty of room to bring your spouse, best friend, sisters, bros, neighbors and even your dog! They can get comfortable in the lounge while you are getting your hair done, making it a pleasant experience for everyone! Check out the Instagram @evlhairlounge."

So if you need a haircut, are looking to update your style for the new year or would just like a styling assist, be sure to reach out to the EVL Hair Lounge and book an appointment today. You can pop onto their website at evlhairlounge.com or call 716-699-1108.

PASSING THE TORCH

The City Garage Boss Wrench Transitions Ownership to Shop Manager

Late in September on a sunny morning on the porch of 13 Elk Street, ownership of City Garage Ski Shop changed hands from Sean and Elizabeth Lowes to Trey and Mila Clauss. Sean reflects on his transition approach, "It is most important for me to maintain the legacy of The City Garage; it was never put up for sale on the open market - in my brain, the right answer was always to pass the torch to Trey who has worked so hard for us since 2001 and has, over 20 plus years, significantly contributed to the growth and direction that the shop has taken. The business never would have been successful without my sister Patra's artistic merchandising skills and with Elizabeth managing all business aspects."

Sean added that The City Garage has its own unique personality, built first and foremost by its employees and loyal customers. "Our customers have contributed the most to the shop's growth! Trey and Mila have a unique understanding of the importance of moving forward to grow the business, while maintaining its essence."

Trey expressed that he has been blessed to have been able to spend over 20 years working for Sean & Elizabeth Lowes. "During those years, I've grown up in an industry that I hold very close to my heart. Skiing has been one of the biggest factors in my life and now I can say that I own one of the best ski shops in the country. Closing the chapter of Lowes' ownership and transitioning to our ownership has us looking forward to what lies ahead for City Garage and our cherished customers. We are very confident that The City Garage brand will continue to grow and retain our loyal supporters!"

Looking back on 46 years of selling skis year-round, Sean added, "I am most proud of the second half of my career and these past 24 years with the shop employees and customers. The City Garage is in excellent hands, and I am excited to see where it goes... let the band play on!"

Sound Healing Session

Last Friday, Dec. 8th The United Church of Ellicottville was the place to be for Reverend Suzy Woo, B.Msc as she treated the local community to a free sound healing session. The event drew a good crowd, even some all the way from Niagara Falls, and was an extremely relaxing and enlightening experience.

2024 Christmas Stroll

On Saturday, Dec. 9th the community gathered in the village to celebrate the annual Christmas Stroll. The event kicked off with the "Reindog" Parade and the fun continued with music and whimsy as the Tee Bar offered holiday cookies, elves strolled the streets handing out candy canes and holiday cheer, and horse drawn wagons carted excited visitors around the beautifully decorated neighborhood. The Ellicottville High School Band performed prior to the Living Nativity, which featured local residents and children reenacting the first Christmas story - the journey and the birth of Jesus.

EVGV Tailgate Party Fundraiser

On Sunday, Dec. 10th the Ellicottville/Great Valley Trail hosted their 1st Tailgate Party Fundraiser at Villaggio. The EVGV Trail committee extends their gratitude to everyone who made the event possible. "Special thanks to Villaggio for the great venue and use of the giant screen, Ellicottville Brewing Company for the craft beer, Daily City Train and Loud Underground for the bike and gift card, Alexandra for the gift basket, the Buffalo Bills for the Bills items, HoliMont for the ski passes and gift card, Scott Johnson for the Air BnB stay, Holiday Valley for the Ski and Stay package, Shannon Carscallen of E-Ville Spirits for the Bourbon Tasting basket, all the volunteers for their hard work, and everyone who attended to help make this event such a resounding success!

HOLIDAY CAMPS

Audubon Community Nature Center Invites Kids to Come Play Over Break

JAMESTOWN – Audubon Community Nature Center (ACNC) is offering two Holiday Camps when children can explore the outdoors, play, climb, run, and engage their senses as they discover all that winter embodies.

The Holiday Camps will take place Wednesday, December 27th for ages 5-11 and Thursday, December 28th for ages 4-12. Both will run from 9:00am-3:00pm. Kids can enjoy the winter holiday playing outdoors and being active. Cold, wind, and ice change the landscape and bring new things to learn about, play with, and explore. Learning and play are the themes of the day.

Since they go outside for as much of the day as possible, children need to be dressed to be comfortable being out in the forecasted weather. They also need to bring water, snacks, a lunch that does not require refrigeration, and extras of anything that might get wet.

Cost for the day is $48 or $36 for Nature Center member children. Additional siblings receive a $5 discount. Enrollment is limited. Paid reservations are required by Monday, December 25th for ages 5–11 for the December 27th camp and Tuesday, December 26th for ages 4–12 for the December 28th camp. For more information and to register, call 716-569-2345 during business hours or go to AudubonCNC.org and click through “Programs and Events.” The nature center building will be closed on Christmas Eve, Christmas Day and New Year’s Day.

Audubon Community Nature Center is located at 1600 Riverside Road, one-quarter mile east of Route 62 between Jamestown, NY, and Warren, PA. You can visit the nearly 600-acre nature preserve, check in on the live birds of prey, enjoy the native tree arboretum and natural play space, and hike, snowshoe or cross country ski over five miles of trails dawn until dusk daily for free.

The three-story Nature Center building houses interactive displays, a collection of live animals including the Hellbender exhibit, and the Blue Heron Gift Shop. Visitors are welcome Monday through Saturday from 10:00am-4:30pm and Sunday from 1:00-4:30pm. Nature Center members and SNAP/EBT cardholders have free building admission daily. Building admission is also free every Sunday for non-Nature Center members.

To learn more about Audubon and its many programs, call 716-569-2345, find Audubon Community Nature Center on Facebook, or visit AudubonCNC.org. Audubon Community Nature Center builds and nurtures connections between people and nature by providing positive outdoor experiences, opportunities to learn about and understand the natural world, and knowledge to act in environmentally responsible ways.

HEALTH & FITNESS

Core Performance: How to Avoid Holiday Weight Gain

BY KIM DUKE, CERTIFIED PERSONAL TRAINER

The holidays can be a real challenging time of year for your waistline and fitness routines. You may wonder, "Is it possible to celebrate the season without packing on extra pounds?" The answer is YES!

Being health-conscious doesn't necessarily mean that you can't enjoy the holiday season and have a little bit of what you fancy. It simply means that you should continue to be vigilant and be prepared for the festivities.

There are many ways in which you can help to strike a balance between maintaining a healthy diet and joining in with the fun and festivities. For instance, start your day off with exercise. Exercising in the morning can help ensure better behavior all day long, according to a study published in the journal Medicine and Science in Sports and Exercise. Using brain scans, researchers found that when women worked out in the AM, they not only moved more the rest of the day, but they also responded less to pictures of tempting food compared with the days they didn't do a morning workout. The upshot: fewer cravings for high-fat fare.

Also, avoid banking calories. Cutting back all day so you can indulge at an event that night only sets you up for a pig-out. Why? You're freaking starving! "It's easy to get out of control when you're faced with high-calorie choices," says Tanya Zuckerbrot, RD, author of The Miracle Carb Diet. Be sure to eat healthy throughout the day, aiming for lots of fruits and veggies, whole grains, and lean protein.

Choose your alcoholic beverages carefully. Trust me when I tell you this IS a struggle, but it can be the difference between a handful of calories and a few hundred calories, which adds up significantly when multiplied by half a dozen cocktails (or a dozen?) throughout the evening. I have found if you alternate a glass of water and a drink, you can save yourself a lot of extra calories.

It's really tempting to throw on baggy sweaters and loose pants this time of year, but wearing form-fitting clothes can actually make you pay more attention to what you eat and whether your body changes from week to week. If the pants you put on last week feel a little tight this week, don't throw them in the back of your closet! Wear them anyway, and just pay more attention to your other healthy habits.

And lastly, be awesome the next day! Don't let one night ruin your next day. Just because the holidays are a time to celebrate doesn't mean every day needs to be a celebration. Set aside one or two nights a week to really enjoy yourself, but stick to your usual routine the rest of the time.

Happy Holidays! Cheers to good health!

Suzy's Star Readings: It's Sagittarius Season - Laugh, Be Merry & Let Yourself Receive Blessings

BY SUZY WOO, B.Msc

Happy December to you all! This month's new moon was on the twelfth in the sign of Sagittarius. What new intention would you like to manifest over the next 28-ish days? Two or even three days after the new moon, you can still "make a wish." This Sagittarius time of the year brings the energy of having those wishes - or prayers - granted when done from a place of sincerity. Believe in miracles!

Sagittarius season is festive by nature. It is ruled by the planet Jupiter and the king of the Greek gods, Zeus. It is charitable, kind, generous, giving, jolly and jovial and loves to 'go big'! Ol' Saint Nick has a big belly, and a big belly laugh with a bellowing "Ho Ho Ho!" These are all traits that describe the grandness of the season and the nature of those with a Sagittarius sun, moon or rising sign. Laugh and be merry! Working with the higher mind and higher heart will work miracles into your life. Use the power of prayer, and know you are worthy to receive, so don't leave YOURSELF out when setting prayers and intentions!

As we get closer to the big day, we will be moving into Capricorn season (marking the winter solstice) and we will be feeling more and more nostalgic, even a bit weepy. Why? We have a full moon the day after Christmas, in the most emotional of all zodiac signs, Cancer. Cancer represents the mother, the nurturer and our need for emotional healing. It also represents one's roots, our families overall; the ones we were born into but also the ones that we have created for ourselves. With the moon in the sign that it rules, Cancer, expect plenty of reflecting. It will pull on the strings of our hearts as we remember those we miss.

I'd like to remind you that energy cannot be destroyed, and that your loved ones are very much still with you. Don't be surprised if you get the chills or goosebumps as you read this and a departed loved one comes to mind, or you may smell, hear or feel them for example. Invite your loved ones to join you around this full moon holiday time, and allow yourself to feel their presence. Your departed loved ones are not only free from the confines of a physical body, they are in a space of all-seeing, all-knowing, and are omnipresent.

I have done thousands of readings for people at my office. So many ask if their departed loved one "made it okay." Your loved ones are in a vibrant frequency of bliss. Learning to love yourself really is the greatest gift you can give this world because it means you acknowledge the miracle of life that you are and allow it to radiate outwards to all that you come across. That is what "the light" is. Across all religions, it is the inner light that some may call 'the holy spirit' that every one of us was born with. We will feel these effects the most from later on the 24th through early on the 28th.

Beyond feelings of loss, it is important to mention that emotions can also go the other way and we can CHOOSE to give thanks to all our loved ones, here and passed, as they helped us to become who we are today. Express gratitude, self-love, love to those in our circles, and to be in the frequency of love. Use the time to give thanks and to celebrate life. That is really the meaning of the season - love that you are alive and help others to do the same by recognizing the 'God inside'.

May you be able to cry tears of joy for how far you've come, for continuing to evolve and grow! Learning to love yourself in new ways! Tears of joy for having people who really do love you!

Here's some great news! Thursday the 21st is the winter solstice, the first official day of winter, and it is the shortest day of the year. YOU MADE IT! We now GAIN daylight. Yay! Sending you warm wishes of love during this time. Please know that you are important and that you are loved. I love you. Watch for my article at the end of the month that will give you a guide to 2024 by your astrological sign!

SPECIAL CONDOLENCES

Mary Elizabeth Dunbar • May 13, 1938 - November 30, 2023

ELLCOTTVILLE - Mary Elizabeth Dunbar of Ellicottville, New York passed away on November 30, 2023 in Jacksonville, Florida. Mary was born on May 13, 1938 to William and Alice (Tilden) Dunbar. She grew up in Little Valley, New York. Mary was the eldest of four sisters; Susan Jane (Dunbar) Shaw, Sally Louise (Dunbar) Westbrook, both deceased, and Betsy Carolyn (Dunbar) Carone who lives with her husband Carl on Jekyll Island, Georgia.

Mary received her Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Maryland at College Park, Maryland and her Master of Arts Degree from North Carolina State University at Raleigh, North Carolina. She then worked as a 4H cooperative extension agent in Cattaraugus County through Cornell University. She served as training leader for youth development and influenced the development of young people for many years. In 1994 Mary was honored with the 4H Distinguished Service Award in recognition of outstanding contributions to 4H. One of the buildings at the Cattaraugus County Fairgrounds was named for Mary Elizabeth Dunbar.

Mary had a love for history. She was the historian for her community. She was on a number of historical boards and helped many organizations and individuals research their history. Mary was also a seasoned traveler. She visited much of the world including our country.

Mary is survived by her sister Betsy Dunbar Carone, her niece Andrea Carone and nephews Aaron Carone, Christopher Westbrook and Matthew Westbrook along with many great nieces and nephews.

There will be a private family memorial service for Mary to celebrate her life at the Little Valley Memorial Cemetery in 2024.

Experience the holiday in one of Ellicottville's most iconic churches (buildings), at the corner of Washington and Jefferson Streets, and ring one of the oldest working bells in the U.S.

All Are Welcome

SPCA TEAMS UP WITH FOUR MILE

OLEAN - The SPCA in Cattaraugus County will be at Four Mile Brewing on Thursday, December 14th from 6:00-8:00pm. 'Home for the Holidays' is a continuation of the SPCA in Cattaraugus County's major dog, cat and kitten rehoming and fostering campaign. This event will make patrons' spirits bright by giving them a wonderful opportunity to visit with the Shelter's decked-out, holiday-garbed dogs, cats and/or kittens, which will be making an appearance, to learn more about adopting, fostering and volunteering and to share some Four Mile brews.

Since Four Mile Brewing is the Official Brewery of Santa Claus and the North Pole, lack of attendance at this 'Home for the Holidays' event could result in being placed on the Naughty list.

The Shelter of the SPCA in Cattaraugus County is located at 2944 Route 16, Olean, New York 14760. Four Mile Brewing is located at 202 E Greene St, Olean, NY 14760. For more information, contact Dr. Shaun Smith at 716-598-7883 or at Dr. Smith@Arklosophy.com.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA

ELLCOTTVILLE - A traditional Ellicottville icon is once more ready to get you in the Spirit of the Season. The Foothills of Cattaraugus County has gathered singers from many area churches, under the direction of Annette Ieda (HNM Church), to present its annual Christmas Cantata.

This group of 40 choristers have been preparing for this event for nine weeks! They will be singing John Purify's "Christmas Seekers." This is a collection of original and traditional carols strung together with narrations in between each song, which are biblical explanations of those who sought Christ at the first Christmas, and still seek him today! This year, choir members have created solos and small ensembles to add some variety and creativity to the festive event. These musicians will "be on first" before the Cantata begins.

There are two performances of the Concert: Riverside Chapel in Salamanca, NY at 3:00pm on Sunday, Dec. 17th, and again at 7:00pm at Holy Name of Mary Church in Ellicottville, NY. Free will offerings will be collected at each church to benefit the local food pantries, and there will be refreshments following the concerts in the basement community rooms.

As the saying goes for Christians, "Jesus is the Reason for the Season!" Come join in as we recreate the first Christmas. Keep the tradition going! Become a Christmas Seeker!
